REGULAR SEASON - WEEK 17

WASHINGTON REDSKINS (8-7) at DALLAS COWBOYS (4-11)

Sunday, Jan. 3 — 1 p.m. ET
AT&T Stadium (80,000) — Arlington, Texas

NFC EAST CHAMPION REDSKINS FACE COWBOYS IN WEEK 17

The Washington Redskins will conclude regular season play on Sunday when they face the Dallas Cowboys at AT&T Stadium in Week 17. Kickoff is scheduled for 1 p.m. ET.

The Redskins earned their 15th division title in team history with a 38-24 victory against the Philadelphia Eagles last week. With eight wins this year, the Redskins exceeded their combined win total from 2013-14 (seven) and completed their second “worst-to-first” turnaround in team history after finishing fourth in the division in 2014.

With the team accomplishment squarely in hand, various members of the Redskins will be able to set their sights on the team record book. Quarterback Kirk Cousins (3,990) enters the week 120 passing yards shy of breaking Jay Schroeder’s team record for passing yards in a season (4,109 in 1986). His top target, tight end Jordan Reed (11), is one touchdown away from tying the team record for touchdown receptions in a season (12), set previously four times (see page 23 for more details).

Nationally televised
Alumni Homecoming Weekend

ALUMNI CENTER

Formally organized in 1958, the Washington Redskins Alumni Association was the first organization of its kind in the country. The organization spearheaded the alumni movement among former professional football players and was the model for other alumni groups that later formed in all NFL cities. Now entering its 57th year, the Alumni Association continues to celebrate those who have contributed to more than eight decades of Redskins football dating back to the team's inception in 1932.

The primary objectives of the Redskins Alumni are promoting a continuing interest in current and past players of the Washington Redskins, as well as promoting and fostering interest and funding for charitable purposes. With respect to the latter, the alumni conduct fundraising events to raise money that can be donated to charitable organizations or used in other ways to help improve the quality of life for youth in the Greater Washington community.

Today, Redskins alumni continue to make their presence known throughout the community. As a very active chapter of the NFL Alumni Association, their motto is "Caring for Kids." In addition to the numerous events and appearances Redskins Alumni participate in throughout the year, they hold two major fundraising events of their own — the Redskins Alumni Charity Golf Classic, now in its 37th year, and the annual Washington Redskins Welcome Home Luncheon, now in its 54th year.

The alumni have an office at Redskins Park and can be reached at 703-726-7488. Since his arrival in Washington in December of 2009, President Bruce Allen has made it a priority to build a bridge to the franchise's historic past. During the Redskins' NFC East title-winning season in 2012, that mission came to the forefront as the team celebrated its 80th anniversary.

"This year, the Washington Redskins will be celebrating our 80th anniversary season. I'm proud to be with the franchise in our nation's capital, one with such a rich tradition and gloried past on and off the field," Allen said in a July 2012 column filling in for Sports Illustrated's Peter King. "The current Redskins players, coaches, fans and staff owe a big debt of gratitude to the people who have made the Redskins one of the flagship franchises in sports."

Throughout the 2012 offseason, the Redskins traversed the Washington D.C./Maryland/Virginia area as part of the team's 'Thank You Tour,' which brought players, coaches, alumni, cheerleaders, team officials and more to fans throughout the entire region to help celebrate the team's historic heritage.

That heritage continues to be honored amongst the game's elite, as in August 2011, former Redskin great Chris Hanburger was enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio. He was presented by his son, Chris. Hanburger was voted into the Hall after being a nominee of the seniors committee. In all, he waited 28 years to be elected.

Hanburger joined Darrell Green (2008), Art Monk (2008) and Russ Grimm (2010) to make four players who spent the majority of their careers with the Redskins to earn the honor in the past five years. In addition, former Redskins Bruce Smith (2009) and Deion Sanders (2011) have also been elected over that time. Hanburger said of his election to the Hall of Fame: "It's wonderful, I'm overwhelmed. It's just such a tremendous honor to even be nominated, let alone be voted in. You have to think about all of the men that played before I did, certainly the men that I played with and against, and then you look at the guys playing now. It's just a select few that make it in. I was fortunate to play with players on the Redskins defense that made it all work for me."

On Sept. 2, the Washington Redskins Charitable Foundation and Redskins Alumni Association held the 54th annual Welcome Home Luncheon at the Ronald Reagan Building and International Trade Center in Washington, D.C. The annual event celebrates the burgundy and gold and kicks off each football season with Redskins players, coaches and alumni.

The Redskins Welcome Home Luncheon is annually the only event where fans and corporate partners have the chance to spend time with the entire Redskins team. Each table is guaranteed at least one player or coach seated with the attendees. Proceeds from the event benefit the youth programs of the Washington Redskins Charitable Foundation and Redskins Alumni Association.

This year, the Redskins used the 2015 event to honor their players for contributions both on and off the field. Wide receiver DeSean Jackson earned 2014 Bobby Mitchell Offensive Player of the Year presented by Neustar, linebacker Ryan Kerrigan earned the 2014 Sam Huff Defensive Player of the Year presented by comScore and punter Tress Way received the 2014 Mark Moseley Special Teams Player of the Year Award presented by Five Guys. In addition, quarterback Robert Griffin III won the 2014 Redskins Salute Award for his efforts with the military, and fullback Darrel Young accepted the 2014 Redskins Community Man of the Year presented by WashingtonFirst Bank. The team also used the event to announce that center Jeff Bostic and linebacker Monte Coleman would be inducted into the team's Ring of Fame during the 2015 season.

Also among the Redskins Alumni Association's premier events is the team's annual Alumni Homecoming celebration, which the Redskins hosted in Week 7 against Tampa Bay. Not including staff and coaches, players in attendance represented nearly 600 combined seasons of Redskins service, 98 combined Super Bowl appearances, 59 combined Super Bowl titles, 26 members of the 80 Greatest Redskins, 17 Redskins Ring of Famers and five Pro Football Hall of Famers. In addition, as announced by Allen at the 2015 Welcome Home Luncheon, the Redskins used their 2015 Alumni Homecoming celebration to induct Bostic as the 47th member of the team's Ring of Fame before inducting Coleman as the 48th member in December.

"That's very humbling. When you look at the list of the 46 that already have their names posted up at FedExField, it's pretty humbling when you look at the fact that I think 19 of them are Hall of Famers, 18 of them either coached me, owned the football team or were my teammates," Bostic told Larry Michael and Redskins.com after his selection was announced. "It's a very special day in the Bostic family."

HEAD COACH JAY GRUDEN

Jay Gruden entered his second season with the Washington Redskins in 2015 after being named the 29th head coach in franchise history on January 9, 2014.

Previously a decorated quarterback in the college and Arena Football League ranks and a successful NFL assistant, Gruden assumed control of the Redskins in 2014 and guided the team through a campaign in which three different quarterbacks (Robert Griffin III, Kirk Cousins and Colt McCoy) recorded victories as starters. He installed an offensive system that helped the Redskins to team records in completions (364) and completion percentage (66.5) and helped produce two Pro Bowlers in his first season, earning repeat berths for tackle Trent Williams and running back Alfred Morris.

Excluding interim coaches, Gruden, 46 at the time of his hiring, became the team's youngest head coaching hire since hiring eventual Pro Football Hall of Famer Joe Gibbs at 40 years of age in 1981. He became the first Redskins coach hired directly from an offensive coordinator role on another team since Norv Turner in 1994.

Before joining the Redskins, Gruden spent his previous three seasons as offensive coordinator for the Cincinnati Bengals. In his tenure in Cincinnati, the Bengals averaged 10 wins a season, making three consecutive playoff appearances and earning an AFC North championship in 2013. Members of the Bengals' offense accounted for seven Pro Bowl selections in his three seasons in Cincinnati.

Gruden was tasked with the development of quarterback Andy Dalton, a 2011 second-round pick. In three seasons together, Gruden helped Dalton to a 30-18 regular season record as a starter (.625), as Dalton's 30 wins in that time frame ranked tied for fifth-most among NFL quarterbacks. Dalton's 80 passing touchdowns ranked third-most in NFL history for a quarterback in his first three seasons, trailing only Dan Marino (98) and Peyton Manning (85).

Prior to joining the Bengals, Gruden served two years with the Florida Tuskers of the United Football League from 2009-10. In 2009, Gruden served as offensive coordinator as the Tuskers compiled a 6-0 regular season record and earned a UFL championship game berth. In 2010, he assumed the roles of head coach and general manager and led the Tuskers to their second consecutive championship game appearance.

Gruden coached for seven seasons (2002-08) with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, earning a Super Bowl championship ring as an offensive assistant in 2002. There he worked under his brother, Jon, then the Bucs' head coach, and current Redskins President Bruce Allen, the Bucs' general manager from 2004-08. Gruden helped guide the Buccaneers to the team's first league championship, a 48-21 victory in Super Bowl XXXVII.

Gruden also ranks among the most outstanding players and coaches in the history of the Arena Football League, having won six combined league championships – four as a quarterback and two as a head coach. Gruden played quarterback (2002-03) and served as head coach (2004-08) of the AFL's Orlando Predators, all while simultaneously working as an offensive assistant with the Buccaneers. In all, Gruden served as head coach of the Predators for nine seasons (1998-2001 and 2004-08), leading the Predators to four championship game appearances and two league titles as a coach. During a two-year hiatus from coaching the Predators in 2002-03, he returned to the playing field as Orlando's quarterback, leading the Predators to playoff appearances in both seasons.

In his eight seasons as a player in the AFL, Gruden completed 1,673-of-2,775 passes (60.3 percent) for 21,578 yards with 398 touchdowns and 99 interceptions. In addition to his time with Orlando, he spent six seasons (1991-96) at quarterback for the Tampa Bay Storm, winning four AFL titles and being named MVP of ArenaBowl VII in 1993. He was also named the 1992 AFL Most Valuable Player and was honored with induction into the AFL Hall of Fame in 1999.

Jay Gruden, 46 at the time of his hiring, became the youngest head coach hired by the Redskins on a non-interim basis since the team hired 40-year-old Joe Gibbs in 1981.

Gruden played quarterback for four seasons for former Redskins draft pick Howard Schnellenberger at the University of Louisville (1985-88) and was a two-time team MVP.

Gruden was born March 4, 1967 in Tiffin, Ohio. He and his wife, Sherry, have three sons — J.J., Joey and Jack.

JASON GARRETT

Jason Garrett was named the eighth head coach in Dallas Cowboys history on January 5, 2011. Garrett became the first former Dallas Cowboys player to become the team's head coach. Throughout his NFL playing and coaching career Garrett played for or worked alongside five of his predecessors. This season was Garrett's fifth full season as a head coach and ninth year with the Cowboys.

In 2014, Garrett led the Cowboys to their first NFC East division title since 2009. The team finished 12-4 and earned the franchise's 31st postseason appearance. A balanced offensive attack was the key to the Cowboy's success with running back DeMarco Murray, wide receiver Dez Bryant and quarterback Tony Romo led the way while breaking club records.

In his first three full seasons as head coach of the Cowboys, Garrett finished with 8-8 records. Garrett took over for his predecessor Wade Phillips halfway through the 2010 season and served as the interim head coach before being promoted prior to the 2011 season. In his eight games at the helm in 2010 the Cowboys finished 5-3 for an overall record of 6-10.

Garrett began his Cowboys coaching career in 2007 when he was hired as offensive coordinator. He was promoted to assistant head coach while still serving as offensive coordinator from 2008-10.

Prior to joining Dallas, Garrett served as the Miami Dolphins quarterbacks coach from 2005-06. The Dolphins were also the last team Garrett played for during his 12-year playing career when he was with the team in the 2004 season.

As a player, Garrett worked under offensive coordinators Norv Turner and Ernie Zampese in Dallas and alongside Sean Payton during his time in New York. Garrett also gained learned from Jon Gruden during his brief stint in Tampa Bay.

Garrett's professional playing career began in the World League when he was a member of the San Antonio Riders in 1991 before moving to the CFL and the Ottawa RoughRiders, also in 1991. In 1993, the Cowboys signed Garrett and he served as Troy Aikman's backup from 1993-99. While in Dallas he was a part of team's that won six division titles and three Super Bowl championships.

He went on to play for the New York Giants from 2000-03 and served as Kerry Collins backup during their run to the Super Bowl in 2000. He continued her career in Tampa Bay Buccaneers (2004) before finishing his career with the Miami Dolphins.

Garrett attended high school at University School in Chagrin Falls, Ohio before attending Princeton University. Garrett earned his bachelors degree in history in 1989 before going on to serve as an assistant coach for Princeton in 1990. As a senior in 1988, Garrett was named the Ivy League's Player of the Year and honorable mention All-American.

The Garrett family has been an NFL family for more than 30 years with Jason continuing that tradition. His father, Jim, spent more than 30 years in the league as a coach and scout. His brother, John, is currently an assistant coach at the University of Florida. Another brother, Judd, was a practice squad player on the 1993 Cowboys team and is now working with the Cowboys scouting department as the director of pro scouting.

He was born on March 28, 1966 in Abington, Pa and currently resides in Dallas with his wife, Brill.

LAST MEETING

Cowboys 19, Redskins 16

Associated Press
Dec. 7, 2015

LANDOVER, Md. -- Dez Bryant's tantrum on the Dallas Cowboys' sideline was not a good look. Neither was Darren McFadden's two-fumble performance. Matt Cassel's passes often sailed nowhere near his receivers.

All in all, it was an ugly game, one devoid of any style points or many scoreboard points until the final 1:30. Perhaps fittingly, a fumbled punt return by Washington's DeSean Jackson deep in his own territory led to Dallas' only touchdown.

Yet none of that mattered to Dallas, really, because by beating Washington 19-16 on Dan Bailey's 54-yard field goal with nine seconds left Monday night, the Cowboys somehow kept themselves in the thick of the playoff chase in the woeful NFC East.

"We have everything to gain and everything to lose," Bryant said. "We are still in this thing."

The last-place Cowboys (4-8) won without quarterback Tony Romo for the first time this season and are only one game behind the Redskins, Giants and Eagles, who are all 5-7.

"Our guys don't blink," Dallas coach Jason Garrett said. "We've given ourselves an opportunity to stay in it."

After combining to score 18 points in the first 58 minutes, the teams combined for 17 points the frenzied rest of the way. Dallas scored the game's first touchdown with 74 seconds remaining to lead 16-9 after recovering Jackson's miscue. Washington tied it on Jackson's 28-yard TD catch, and then Bailey hit the go-ahead kick.

"A roller coaster," Redskins quarterback Kirk Cousins called it.

Washington had won its past five home games, but this loss continued a pattern: The Redskins have not won in consecutive weeks all season.

"We just had some unforced errors," coach Jay Gruden said.

None was bigger than Jackson's. With the knotted at 9-9, Jackson -- who hadn't been used as a punt returner all season until last week -- caught the kick at his 16, began running up the field and got past the 20 before reversing course and heading back to the 1. As he tried to move forward, Jackson was surrounded, and the ball popped out and was recovered by punter Chris Jones at the 15 with 86 seconds remaining.

"Well, it didn't end up the way we wanted it to," Gruden said of that play.

Jackson did not deflect blame.

"I take that one on my chin," he said. "I'm a veteran in this league, and I know I need to protect the ball."

Dallas needed only two plays to cash in and jump in front on McFadden's 6-yard touchdown run. A 41-yard kickoff return plus a 15-yard face mask penalty on J.J. Wilcox set the Redskins up at Dallas' 43, and four plays later, Jackson hauled in a perfect pass from Cousins to pull even with 44 seconds to go. That left enough time for Cassel to lead Dallas 20 yards in five plays for Bailey's fourth field goal.

"One of the crazier games I've ever been a part of," Cassel said.

He was previously 0-4 as a starter in place of the injured Romo this season.

"I feel stunned we have not been able to win more games without Tony," Cowboys owner Jerry Jones said. "I thought we could coach it up enough to put it together enough to not have lost those games without Romo early, and we'd be in better shape now. We won one on will tonight."

Both QBs were mediocre, with Cousins going 22-for-31 for 219 yards, one TD and zero interceptions. It was the first time this season that Washington lost when he avoided throwing a pick. Cassel finished 16-for-29 for 222 yards, with several of his throws landing nowhere near teammates.

Bryant was yelling, cursing and generally carrying on along the Cowboys' sideline in the first half, apparently upset about not being thrown the ball. By halftime, he had zero catches and had been targeted twice. He finished with three receptions for 62 yards, including a diving, 42-yard grab that led to -- what else? -- a field goal.

"I have to do a better job of giving him more opportunities," Cassel said.

Game notes: Redskins K Dustin Hopkins made three kicks but missed one from 43 yards with about seven-and-a-half minutes remaining. ... The teams combined for 16 penalties for 144 yards. There were 10 punts and seven in the first quarter alone. ... Dallas lost three fumbles, but those led to only three points for Washington. ... Because of a power problem, the tablets used by teams on the sideline were shut off.

KIRK COUSINS

Comebacks are nothing new to Kirk Cousins.

As one of Michigan State's most decorated quarterbacks, Cousins became known for signature moments. In his senior season in 2011, Cousins and his Michigan State teammates received "Best Finish of the Year" from the Big Ten Network after Cousins completed a 44-yard Hail Mary with no time remaining to earn a 37-31 win against previously undefeated Wisconsin in one of the most defining images of the 2011 college football season. His heroics continued in his final college game, as he threw for 300 yards in the Spartans' 33-30 win against Georgia in the Outback Bowl, leading a touchdown drive in the final two minutes to force overtime in an eventual three-overtime win.

Cousins' perpetuated his late-game feats at the professional level in his rookie season, as he helped deliver in a comeback win vs. the eventual Super Bowl champion Baltimore Ravens during Washington's 2012 NFC East title-winning season. Down eight with less than two minutes remaining, Cousins completed two-of-two passes including an 11-yard touchdown to Pierre Garçon. He followed with a two-point conversion on a quarterback draw, marking the first time in team history that the Redskins had scored a two-point conversion to send a game to overtime. Cousins' performance earned the then-rookie "GMC Never Say Never" honors that week.

But perhaps nothing in Cousins' collegiate career or rookie season could prepare him for the comeback opportunity that awaited him in 2015. In 2014, Cousins started five games before the team turned to other options at quarterback, and he completed the 2015 offseason receiving second-team reps in practice.

That all changed with the following announcement by Head Coach Jay Gruden on Aug. 31, less than two weeks prior to the team's season opener.

"It's Kirk's team," Gruden said.

With that, Cousins' career comeback began, and the late-game theatrics soon followed. In Week 4 against the Philadelphia Eagles, he engineered a 15-play, 90-yard drive in 5:39 to complete his first fourth-quarter come-from-behind victory as a starter. Cousins threaded a ball into a tight window to connect with Garçon for a four-yard touchdown with 26 seconds remaining to earn the win.

After the win, Cousins said the hardships of his career were integral in his growth in being able to deliver in that moment.

"I know that that final drive I wasn't capable of doing that when I came into the league as a rookie," Cousins said. "It takes time, it takes failures, it takes learning from experiences and a combination of, I guess it would be three-plus seasons worth of work got me to a point where I was able to make the necessary plays on that drive."

Three weeks later, Cousins' comeback ability helped rewrite the Redskins' record book. Trailing the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, 24-0, late in the second quarter, Cousins accounted for four touchdowns (three passing, one rushing) in leading the Redskins to the largest comeback victory in the franchise's 84-year history.

Cousins completed 33-of-40 passes for 317 yards with three touchdowns and no interceptions, posting the sixth game of 300 passing yards, three passing touchdowns and no interceptions by a Redskins quarterback in a win since the 1970 merger, joining Brad Johnson (Week 4 in 1999), Mark Rypien (Week 11 in 1990 and Week 11 in 1991) and Joe Theismann (Week 1 in 1982 and Week 5 in 1983). The NFC Offensive Player of the Week registered his team-record-tying 33rd completion of the game on a six-yard game-winning touchdown pass to tight end Jordan Reed with 24 seconds remaining.

With his two fourth-quarter comeback wins in October, Cousins became the first quarterback since Drew Bledsoe in December 2005 to throw game-winning touchdown passes with less than 30 seconds remaining twice in a single month, according to the Elias Sports Bureau.

TALE OF TWO KIRKS

As the Redskins celebrated an NFC East title in the visiting locker room at Lincoln Financial Field in Week 16, several players and coaches reflected on the turning points that made the division championship possible.

Many pointed to the Redskins' 24-point comeback against the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in Week 7, the largest comeback victory in team history. The game and its aftermath gave birth to the "You Like That!" craze that has since swept the nation.

The win against Tampa Bay was the start of a dominant stretch of play by quarterback Kirk Cousins that helped lead the team to the postseason.

"I think we when made that comeback against Tampa Bay, we knew we had something special in that guy," defensive end Chris Baker told local reporters.

JORDAN REED

Jordan Reed entered the 2015 season as a volatile stock in the eyes of some observers.

The third-year tight end had flashed his talent and ability during his first two seasons in 2013-14, but injuries and a myriad of other factors limited his productivity. But in 2015, Reed's growth stock began surging through the ceiling as he began compiling arguably the greatest season by a tight end in the Redskins' 84-year history.

This season, Reed has posted career highs in receptions (83), receiving yards (907) and touchdowns (11) and ranks among the league leaders in nearly every statistical category among tight ends this season. Pro Bowlers — a distinction for which Reed was relegated to "alternate" status — are denoted below in the rankings with asterisks.

One of Reed's finer performances came in Week 14 against the Chicago Bears, as he posted a then-season-high 120 receiving yards with a touchdown on nine receptions. After helping will to the Redskins to a 24-21 road win, teammates shouted "Pro Bowl!" and "Pay the man!" during Reed's media availability.

Following the performance, Bears Head Coach John Fox said of Reed, "Well, I mean, he is a professional football player. He played tight end well." Redskins offensive captain Trent Williams, a four-time Pro Bowler, was slightly more effusive in his praise.

"As I've said before and said every week, I don't know anybody who can guard that young man," Williams said. "When he's on, he's on, and it's tough to stop. He's the best receiving tight end in the NFL, hands down. I think he's having a Pro Bowl year."

One of the offense's biggest threats came up large on the team's biggest stage in Week 16, as Reed caught nine passes for 129 yards with two touchdowns in the team's NFC East division-clinching win against the Philadelphia Eagles. With the performance, Reed broke the team's single-season receiving yardage mark by a tight end (see next page for details).

"As I've said before and said every week, I don't know anybody who can guard that young man. When he's on, he's on, and it's tough to stop. He's the best receiving tight end in the NFL, hands down. I think he's having a Pro Bowl year."

THIRD DOWNS

'YOU GET WHAT YOU EMPHASIZE'

In 2014, the Redskins ranked 30th in the NFL in third down conversion percentage (31.5). The Redskins devoted large portions of their off-season efforts to improving on third downs on both sides of the ball.

"I've always believed that you get what you emphasize and I think our coaches went back and looked at last year and said, 'We need to be better on third down. Let's emphasize that,'" quarterback Kirk Cousins said. "So starting in April when we came back it was a point of emphasis. When you work on something enough and emphasize it, you get the results."

The Redskins have ranked among the Top 10 in the NFL in third down conversion percentage for the majority of the 2015 season and enter Week 17 as one of 14 NFL teams to have converted at least 40 percent of third downs this season.

THIRD AND ≤ 6

The Redskins' success on long drives this year has been predicated in part on their success on third downs, particularly on what Head Coach Jay Gruden and Quarterback Kirk Cousins refer to as "Third-and-Manageables." The added importance on staying ahead of the chains on early downs has helped facilitate Washington's turnaround on third downs this season.

Through Week 16, the Redskins are one of the league's best at converting third downs when faced with six or fewer yards to go:

4. Atlanta Falcons	118	69	58.5

The No. 1 ranking in that category is buoyed by superlative performances on third-and-medium (4-6 yards to go) and a Top 12 effort on third and short.

OFFENSIVE PLAYMAKERS

JAMISON CROWDER

Rookie Jamison Crowder entered his rookie season in 2015 with expectations of assuming the team's role at punt returner, but Crowder rapidly exceeded those limits and earned the team's top slot receiver role and has become one of the team's top weapons on third down.

"We had a penciled-in punt returner job for him, but for him to win the starting inside slot receiver is a testament to him and how quickly he picked it up and his production," Head Coach Jay Gruden said. "When you draft guys, you have high hopes for them, but you never expect them to be this much of a factor this early, especially fourth-fifth rounders."

"He's one of those kids: You can put him in a phone booth and you probably wouldn't get a hand on him."

- Receivers Coach Ike Hilliard to The Washington Post's Liz Clarke on Crowder

Crowder enters Week 16 ranking third among NFL rookies in receptions (54) and sixth in receiving yards (495).

PIERRE GARÇON

Pierre Garçon has been a primary target for the Washington Redskins on third down since joining the team in 2012. In 57 games with Washington, Redskins quarterbacks have targeted Garçon 123 times on third down, 49 more targets than any of his teammates in that time frame.

Garçon enters Week 17 second in the NFC and tied for third in the NFL in third-down receptions this season.

THIRD DOWN RECEPTIONS (NFL, 2015):

9t. Emmanuel Sanders	DEN	25	332	4
9t. Danny Woodhead	SD	25	200	3

In a Week 15 win against the Buffalo Bills that gave the Redskins sole possession of first place in the NFC East, Garçon's effectiveness on third down was critical to two touchdown drives. Facing a third-and-7 at the Buffalo 29, Garçon gained 11 yards, setting up an 18-yard touchdown to Jordan Reed on the following play. Later in the game, on the final play of the third quarter, Garçon converted a third-and-16 with an 18-yard dig route, extending an eventual 13-play touchdown drive that put the Redskins back in command after the Bills had cut a 28-3 lead to 28-17.

In 2013, in the midst of his franchise-record-breaking 113-catch season, Garçon caught 32 receptions on third down, the most by a member of the Redskins since the turn of the century. Garçon is four receptions shy of matching that mark this season.

MATT JONES

The Redskins' bruising rookie running back was drafted in the third round to provide a physical, between-the-tackles presence for the Redskins' rushing attack in 2015. In Week 10 against New Orleans, Jones got to flash his hands and speed in space.

Jones recorded a team-high and career-high 131 receiving yards on three receptions, including a 78-yard catch and run. His 131 receiving yards were the most by a Redskins running back since Dec. 16, 1962 (Dick James, 140 yards). The 78-yard touchdown reception marked the longest by a Redskins running back since Larry Brown on Nov 5, 1972 against the New York Jets (89 yards).

TAKEAWAYS

COMING IN DROVES

Three weeks into the season, there seemed to be cause for alarm.

After spending the entire offseason emphasizing the importance of turnovers, Defensive Coordinator Joe Barry's unit had produced only one takeaway through the Redskins' first three games, tied with Jacksonville for the fewest in the NFL.

TAKEAWAYS (WEEKS 1-3):

Team	No.
1. New York Jets	11

26t. Miami Dolphins	2
26t. Pittsburgh Steelers	2

31t. Jacksonville Jaguars	1
31t. Washington Redskins	1

Though patience isn't exactly part of the "Compete. Physical. Finish." mission statement that Barry has created for his unit, it is exactly what he practiced. Asked after Week 3 about the team's inability to procure takeaways, Barry — who adamantly calls the statistic "takeaways" instead of "turnovers" — said he knew they would come in bunches.

"I'm a firm believer too that takeaways come in droves," Barry said. "You don't know when they're going to happen, you don't know when they're going to come. But it's something that we preach every single day."

In the 12 games following those comments, the Redskins have recorded 22 takeaways, tied for fifth-most in the NFL in that time frame.

TAKEAWAYS (WEEKS 4-16):

Prior to a zero-takeaway day at Carolina in Week 11, the Redskins' 13 takeaways across Weeks 4-10 marked the first time the franchise had posted 13 takeaways in a six-game span since Weeks 2-7 of the 2012 season.

The Redskins registered three takeaways against the Falcons in Week 5 and Jets in Week 6, posting consecutive three-takeaway games for the first time since Weeks 12-13 last season. All three takeaways against the Jets came in the first half, marking the unit's first three-takeaway first half since Week 13 of the 2014 season at Indianapolis. The Redskins added back-to-back three-takeaway games again in Weeks 12-13 this season, picking off Giants quarterback Eli Manning three times and stripping the Cowboys three times a week later.

In Weeks 5-6, the Redskins recorded multiple takeaways in three consecutive games from Weeks 4-6 for the first time since accomplishing the feat in Weeks 15-17 of the 2013 season.

With two takeaways against the Saints in Week 10, the Redskins posted their sixth straight contest with at least one takeaway for the first time in a single season since Weeks 12-17 of the 2013 season.

BASHAUD BREELAND

The Redskins believed they found a gem in the fourth round of the 2014 NFL Draft when they selected cornerback Bashaud Breeland out of Clemson. He rewarded their faith as a rookie last year, leading the team with two interceptions and starting 15 games the third-most by a Redskins rookie cornerback in team history behind only Champ Bailey (16 in 1999) and Pro Football Hall of Famer Darrell Green (16 in 1983).

This year, the signing of Chris Culliver and the return of DeAngelo Hall from injury was supposed to allow Breeland to flourish in nickel role, but various injuries to the Redskins' secondary have once again thrust him into a starting role in 2015. Since returning from a Week 1 suspension, Breeland has compiled 77 tackles (56 solo), a team- and career-high 15 passes defensed, two interceptions, three forced fumbles and two fumble recoveries in 14 games, including a Week 9 contest in which he was limited by injury.

In Week 5, Breeland posted four passes defensed and his first interception of the season, playing a key role in helping limit Falcons receiver Julio Jones to only five receptions and no receiving touchdowns. A week later, Breeland turned in a career day, recording an interception, forced fumble and a career-high two fumble recoveries to become only the fifth NFL player since the turn of the century to record two fumble recoveries and an interception in a single game.

With his Week 6 pick, Breeland became the first member of the Redskins record an interception in consecutive games since London Fletcher did so in three straight games across Weeks 14-16 of the 2012 season.

However, Breeland's biggest play of the season may not have even ended with the ball in his hands. In Week 7 against the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, the Redskins had fought back from a 24-0 deficit to pull within three points. On a first down with slightly more than four minutes remaining, Tampa Bay running back Doug Martin broke free down the right sideline with a clear path to a game-clinching touchdown. Breeland — coming from the opposite side of the field — was able to push Martin out-of-bounds after 49 yards at the Washington 5 for a touchdown-saving stop.

Breeland injured his hamstring with the monstrous effort, but the Redskins' defense responded by holding the Buccaneers to a field goal on the drive, allowing the Washington offense to drive down the field and score a touchdown to complete the largest comeback in franchise history.

After the game, Head Coach Jay Gruden noted the importance of Breeland's stop in the midst of the second-year cornerback's career-high 13-tackle day.

"At the end of the day, they score there, the game's over. That shows what kind of guy he is," Gruden said. "I talk about Breeland being an ultimate competitor. If he takes that one play off, or one instance and they go up by 10, the game's over, most likely. And he hustled, got them down at the five. We got a big stop, held a field goal, we go down and score."

From the second quarter of the Redskins' Week 2 win vs. St. Louis through the first half of Washington's Week 4 win vs. Philadelphia, the Redskins posted eight consecutive scoring drives of 10 plays or more. That streak was snapped when the Redskins scored on a nine-play drive in the third quarter against the Eagles.

Per the Elias Sports Bureau, prior to the Redskins, the most recent NFL team to record eight consecutive scoring drives lasting 10 plays or more came in 2007 when the Indianapolis Colts recorded a streak of nine such drives.

In Week 10, the Redskins scored on eight of their 10 drives. During the game, the Redskins scored on six consecutive drives. According to the Elias Sports Bureau, the last time the Redskins had scored on six consecutive drives in a single game was on Dec. 30, 2001.

UP FOR GRABS

Parity has been a topic de jour in the National Football League in recent years, and the league-wide trends provide the evidence.

Each year since the 12-team playoff format was adopted in 1990, at least four teams have qualified for the playoffs after missing the postseason the year before.

No division has seen more turnover at the top in the last four years than the NFC East. Entering 2015, the division the Redskins call home was the only division in the NFL to have had all four teams earn a division title in the last four seasons. With their division title in 2015, the Redskins became the first NFC East team to win two division titles in the last five years.

A NEW BREED

The Redskins' heritage at offensive line runs deep in team lore, dating back to the beloved "Hogs" in the 1980s and 1990s. Their legacy instilled an appreciation for football's oft-anonymous workers in Redskins fans, and since that era of dominant line play, Redskins fans have called for a return of that identity.

Whether the offensive line can or should resurrect the "Hogs" nickname is a matter of debate, but what is not up for debate is the team's commitment to trying to create the next era of outstanding offensive line play in Washington.

When General Manager Scot McCloughan joined the Redskins in January 2015, he spoke of a desire to create a football team with a big, physical identity. To that end, McCloughan made two large offseason moves — one in scope and one in size.

The first move may loom largest, as on Jan. 15, exactly one week after taking the General Manager job, McCloughan named Bill Callahan as Offensive Line Coach. Three months later, McCloughan and Callahan made another big move, drafting behemoth 6-foot-5 Outland Trophy winner Brandon Scherff with the No. 5 overall pick.

Scherff, now the starting right guard, has paired with second-year tackle Morgan Moses to form a right side of the offensive line that the Redskins hope to feature for years to come.

"When it's all said and done, they've got the size, they've got the strength, they've got the footwork to be great offensive linemen," Head Coach Jay Gruden said of the duo.

Among the pieces already in place upon Callahan and Scherff's arrival in 2015 was one of the game's elite left tackles — Trent Williams. In August, the Redskins rewarded Williams with a lucrative contract extension that made him the game's highest-paid offensive tackle.

Williams, a four-time Pro Bowler, has blossomed since being selected with the No. 4 overall pick in the 2010 NFL Draft. The Redskins' offensive captain nicknamed "Silverback" is often described as a freak athlete, an imposing 337-pounder who recorded a 34.5-inch vertical and 4.87 40-yard dash at the 2010 NFL Combine. His breathtaking combination of size, speed and strength often leaves coaches, teammates and observers in awe.

"He's a giant of a man plus he's got the feet of a ballerina."

- Head Coach Jay Gruden on Trent Williams

"Yeah, that's blessed," Gruden said in 2014. "You can't teach what Trent Williams has. He's a giant of a man plus he's got the feet of a ballerina, so that is genetics right there at its finest."

Williams has continued a tradition of strong left tackle play in Washington this century. Between Williams (2012-14) and former Redskins great Chris Samuels (2001-02, 05-08), Redskins left tackles have been selected to eight of the last 11 Pro Bowls.

From 2012-14, the group was one of the league's top units in the running game, posting 6,564 rushing yards in that time frame, third-most in the NFL. In 2015, it has been in pass protection where they have shined the most, as they currently sit fifth in the NFC and tied for seventh in the NFL in fewest sacks allowed.

"We're trying to emulate that and trying to carry on that tradition here and trying to live up to the standards that they've established."

- Offensive Line Coach Bill Callahan on The Hogs

BILL CALLAHAN

Bill Callahan knows all about "Boss Hog."

Joe Bugel, known colloquially as "Boss Hog," spent three decades in the NFL helping shape some of the most iconic offensive lines in football, creating Washington's beloved "Hogs" and helping pave the way to glory for the Redskins in the 1980s and 1990s.

It's a legacy that Bill Callahan, already one of the most esteemed offensive line teachers in the game today, admires and hopes to emulate.

"I've always admired what Joe Bugel has done," Callahan said during the offseason. "He had a great reputation then as he does now and he's just been kind of a mentor in a lot of ways watching his film and watching what he's done with players over the years."

In a sense, the identities and legacies of Callahan and the Redskins parallel one another. Both boast impressive histories of strong offensive line play, and both want to take cues from the franchise's past to perpetuate the tradition of great trench play in Washington.

"No single offseason transaction may impact this franchise more than the hiring of Callahan away from the rival Dallas Cowboys," Washington Times columnist Thom Loverro wrote in August. "Credited with being the architect of the Cowboys' impressive rushing offense last season, Callahan is being heralded as the savior who can return this team to the days that this fan base has longed for — running the ball down the throats of opponents with a group of big offensive linemen."

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

Leave it to the man nicknamed “Pot Roast” to try to christen a new moniker for the defensive line.

The Redskins entered the 2015 season with seven defensive linemen, only two of whom (Kedric Golston and Chris Baker) predated the arrival of Head Coach Jay Gruden in 2014. During Gruden’s first offseason, the team made a splash in luring defensive end Jason Hatcher from the division rival Cowboys.

A year later, the Redskins added three defensive linemen with proven NFL pedigrees in nose tackle Terrance “Pot Roast” Knighton and defensive ends Stephen Paea and Ricky Jean Francois.

The turnover at the position has brought instant chemistry to the defensive line meeting room, and with it, a proposed nickname.

“We have a very silly group chat, the D-line room,” Knighton said during training camp. “I told the group I was going on SportsNation. I was like, ‘Give me a name, somebody give me a name. Something to get people riled up about, get the fans into it.’ One of the guys texts ‘Capital Punishment.’

“I can’t really tell you who really did it, but right now, we’ll just say [Jason] Hatcher came up with it. He can’t get any credit for it yet. But for right now, we’re just going to give the credit to Hatch.”

The group has been nearly inseparable throughout the offseason and into the 2015 regular season. In Week 2, the group debuted its newest sign of solidarity when its members both arrived at and departed from FedExField wearing customized Washington Nationals jerseys featuring their nicknames and numbers: “Pot Roast” for Knighton, “Hatch” for Hatcher, “Big Ked” for Golston, “Bravo” for Paea, “Swaggy” for Baker and “Freak” for Jean Francois.

“It’s camaraderie, man,” Knighton said. “We love each other, we hang out a lot,” he explained. “You gotta be [a tight-knit group], especially the D-line. You gotta play together. We’ve got a lot of veterans in the room. Obviously, we’re all veterans. I always tell Hatch we gotta keep him young. This is part of it.”

While the nicknames and showings of togetherness make for great social media fodder, it’s the unit’s on-field performance and sheer depth that is the source of Head Coach Jay Gruden’s excitement.

“That’s what I like about our D-Line. I feel like we can keep them fresh and rotate them in there to make sure they all get a crack at it. We’re like a tag-team wrestling match, man. One guy goes out, we’ll tag one off and he’ll come in and wreak some havoc,” Gruden said. “I feel really good about our rotation. Whether it is five guys or six guys, we haven’t decided yet. They’ve all proven worthy of being in the lineup.”

- Head Coach Jay Gruden on Sept. 10

The line has often stepped up when needed most. The Redskins have forced third-and-one or fourth-and-one on 25 occasions this year and have allowed only 12 first downs in those opportunities, second-best in the NFL.

ALFRED MORRIS

Away from football, running back Alfred Morris might be best known for his beloved car — a 1991 Mazda 626 he affectionately names “Bentley.” Mazda volunteered 275 hours of work over four months to restore Morris’ famous ride, which he bought from his pastor for $2 in college.

It’s been Morris himself that’s run like an old classic since he entered the league in 2012. Morris was one of the engines that drove the Redskins to their first team rushing title since 1933 in 2012 and has continued to drive the Redskins’ offense ever since.

Morris’ 3,962 rushing yards across his first three seasons placed him among elite company in NFL history. His rushing total in his first three years was the 13th-most in league history, grouping him in a Top 15 that includes five current Pro Football Hall of Famers and several others sure to merit inclusion when eligible.

RHYTHM RUNNER

The Redskins frequently emphasize their desire to get Alfred Morris into a rhythm.

“He’s a guy that needs... carries to get lathered up,” Running Backs Coach Randy Jordan told Liz Clarke of the Washington Post. “He is one of those throwbacks. You get to carry number 14, 15, 16, 17, and there’s a big discrepancy [in the gains] between those carries and the first 10 carries.”

The rationale is borne out by the numbers. Since entering the league in 2012, No. 46 has been elite on carries 11-15.

DESEAN JACKSON

DeSean Jackson's reality show DeSean Jackson: Home Team premiered on BET in July, aiming to highlight what one entertainment publication called "the star receiver and the women who run his life."

Jackson returns for his second season in Washington in 2015 after an electrifying debut campaign with his new "home team" in burgundy and gold. Though perhaps diminutive in size, there was nothing small about his performance in 2014, as the Cal product posted team highs in receiving yards (1,169) and receiving touchdowns (six) on 56 receptions.

In the process, Jackson finished the season with an NFL-best average of 20.9 yards per reception, the fifth-best mark in team history. He became the first member of the Redskins to finish a season as the NFL leader in yards per reception since Henry Ellard (19.5 in 1996) and was the fourth player in team history to accomplish the feat (Ellard in 1996, Jim Podoley in 1957 and Hugh Taylor in 1950).

But for the newly minted reality television star, Jackson isn't without a flair for the dramatic storyline. The Redskins knew first-hand what kind of playmaking ability Jackson possessed prior to signing him in 2014. In six years as a Philadelphia Eagle, he caught 32 passes for 572 yards (17.9 avg.) with five receiving touchdowns, his most receiving touchdowns against any opponent, in 11 games against Washington.

Jackson's explosiveness and flair for the dramatic took center stage in his return to Philadelphia in Week 3 last season. Despite being listed as questionable after suffering an injury to his AC joint a week earlier, Jackson played and played spectacularly in his debut against the Eagles, posting 117 receiving yards on five receptions including an 81-yard touchdown on a bomb in his return.

That kind of explosiveness that has turned heads for Jackson's entire career since he entered the league in 2008. Jackson leads the NFL in receptions of 50-plus yards (33) and total touchdowns of 50-plus yards (24) in that timeframe.

"The guy gets downfield and can adjust to the ball like nobody else," Head Coach Jay Gruden said.

"When that ball is in the air, I'm going to track it down. I've practiced a long time, a lot of hours, many weeks, many days doing that."

- Wide receiver DeSean Jackson

Jackson had another shot at his former team in Week 16 last year, adding 126 yards on four receptions in a 27-24 Redskins win. For the year, he finished with nine receptions for 243 yards in two games against the Eagles, his most in each category against any opponent last season.

But despite his performance and the win that spoiled his former team's playoff hopes, Jackson's perspective remained in place.

"Honestly, it's a great team win overall," Jackson said. "For us to come out on top like that, that's a great one. I give a shout out to all my boys in the locker room."

Last season, Jackson became the fifth member of the Redskins to post 1,000 receiving yards in his first season in Washington, joining Bobby Mitchell in 1962, Henry Ellard in 1994, Laveranues Coles in 2003 and Santana Moss in 2005. He led the NFL with eight receptions of 50-plus yards in 2014, pushing his NFL-best total of career receptions of 50-plus yards since entering the league to 30.

"He's starting to open up a little bit, and people have a lot of respect for him as a football player obviously for what he does when the lights are on," Gruden said last season.

#HBKERRIGAN

Call him “Heartbreak Kerrigan” (#HBKerrigan on Twitter) or call him “The Showstopper,” either way, Redskins fans can call Ryan Kerrigan their own for the foreseeable future.

On the day Redskins players reported to Richmond, Va., for training camp in 2015, the team announced it had reached a multi-year contract extension to keep the productive, reliable fan favorite in burgundy and gold. The extension came on the heels of a monster year for Kerrigan in 2014, as he started all 16 games for a fourth consecutive season and posted a career-high 13.5 sacks.

If patience is a virtue, the Redskins were virtuous in the first round of the 2011 NFL Draft, as the team opted to trade back from its No. 10 overall selection to the 16th overall pick. With the selection, the Redskins selected Kerrigan, the then-defensive end out of Purdue.

Named to his first career Pro Bowl following the 2012 season, the Muncie, Ind. native registered 8.5 sacks in each of the 2012-13 seasons after posting 7.5 in his rookie season in 2011 and exploded in 2014 with a career-high 13.5 sacks. But his productivity has been matched by his reliability, as he has started all 79 regular season games and one postseason game played by the organization since his selection in 2011.

In Week 2 of the 2014 season, Kerrigan launched a simultaneous assault on Jaguars quarterback Chad Henne and the Redskins’ record book, tying a franchise record by becoming the fifth player in team history to record four sacks in a game. But more stunning than Kerrigan’s four-sack outburst was the way the normally subdued man from America’s heartland celebrated his first and fourth sacks of the day in the midst of a 41-10 win.

“[Linebacker] Will Compton has been kind of getting in my ear for a while to do the Shawn Michaels from wrestling — the HBK,” Kerrigan said of the inspiration for his celebrations. “All he kept saying was, ‘Hit the HBK, hit the HBK.’ Finally, I did right by him and hit the HBK a couple times. On the second and third ones, when I didn’t do it, he was giving me a bunch of hell on the sidelines, like, ‘Why didn’t you do it? You need to trademark it.’ I’m like, ‘Well, I can’t trademark it, it’s HBK.’ But that’s where it came from. You guys can thank Will Compton for the motivation for that one.”

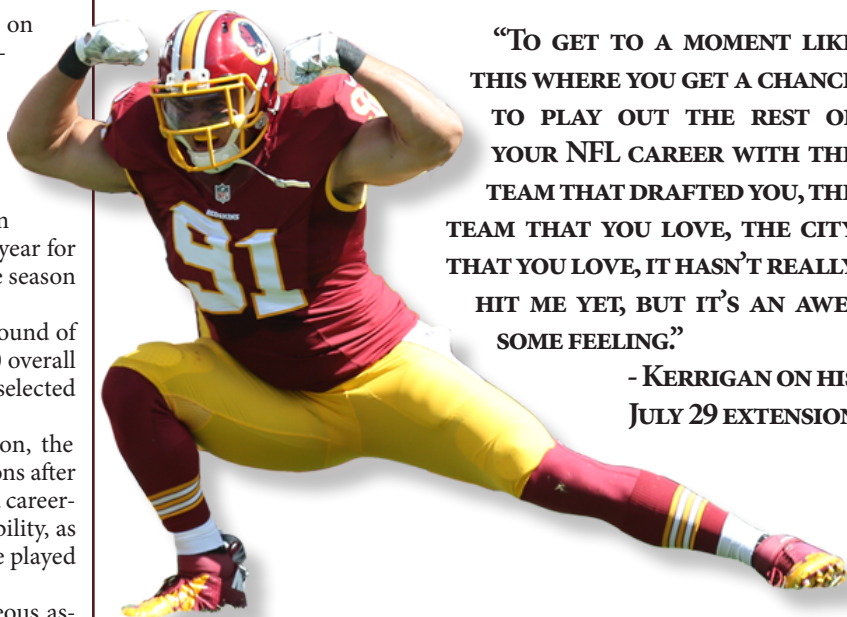

The gesture resonated with wrestling fans and Redskins fans alike. The celebration was promoted by WWE on Twitter, and Redskins fans immediately began referring to the celebration as the “#HBKerrigan.”

Kerrigan is one of six players selected in the 2011 NFL Draft to have already reached 45 career sacks. Houston’s J.J. Watt (71.5), Denver’s Von Miller (59.0), Kansas City’s Justin Houston (56.0), St. Louis’ Robert Quinn (50.0), Oakland’s Aldon Smith (47.5) and Kerrigan (46.5) have combined for 330.5 sacks since entering the league together in the 2011 NFL Draft.

The Purdue product ended his college career tied for the Football Bowl Subdivision record with 14 career forced fumbles, and his innate knack for knocking the ball loose has translated to the NFL. Kerrigan has been credited with 17 forced fumbles in his young career and passed Ken Harvey (13) for the most career forced fumbles by a member of the Redskins since 1994.

Kerrigan’s impact on the Redskins has transcended football, as his strong 2014 campaign also included an NFL Players Association Community MVP award to his credit. One day after his four-sack performance in Week 2, Kerrigan hosted the second annual Celebrity Waiter Night at Ruth’s Chris Steakhouse in Arlington, Va. The linebacker and his teammates served customers and helped raise more than $100,000 for Kerrigan’s Blitz for the Better Foundation, which provides support to seriously ill, special needs and physically challenged children throughout the Greater Washington D.C. area.

On Sept. 28 this season, Kerrigan welcomed 185 guests to the Grand Hyatt Washington for his third annual Celebrity Waiter Night, raising more than $100,000 alongside teammates Kirk Cousins, Alfred Morris, Jason Hatcher, Keenan Robinson and others. In December, he was honored with the team’s Walter Payton Man of the Year award.

“TO GET TO A MOMENT LIKE THIS WHERE YOU GET A CHANCE TO PLAY OUT THE REST OF YOUR NFL CAREER WITH THE TEAM THAT DRAFTED YOU, THE TEAM THAT YOU LOVE, THE CITY THAT YOU LOVE, IT HASN’T REALLY HIT ME YET, BUT IT’S AN AWESOME FEELING.”

DARREL YOUNG: UNSUNG HERO

Darrel Young entered the NFL as a college free agent linebacker out of Villanova in 2009. One position change and two head coaching changes later, Young has found a home as one of the league's most dynamic fullbacks.

A favorite of teammates, fans, coaches and media members alike, there was consternation in the 2014 off-season about whether or not then-new coach Jay Gruden — who did not prominently feature a fullback as Offensive Coordinator of the Cincinnati Bengals — would have a significant role for Young. That question was laid to rest early in Gruden's tenure.

"I didn't have Darrel Young in Cincinnati — if I had him, I would have used him," Gruden said. "He's very versatile, he can run, he can catch, so we're excited about having him... The personnel will vary but DY will be a major part of this offense."

Gruden's statements proved prophetic, as Young posted a career-high five total touchdowns in 2014, including the team's first points of the year in Houston and two rushing touchdowns in a Week 16 win vs. Philadelphia. In Weeks 1-3, he became the first member of the Redskins to score the team's first touchdown in three consecutive games since Fred Davis in Weeks 12-14 of the 2009 season.

As a blocker, Young has helped pave the way for a rushing attack that gained 6,564 rushing yards across the 2012-14 seasons, third-most in the NFL. Among the beneficiaries of Young's blocks is Alfred Morris, whose 3,962 rushing career yards from 2012-14 were the 13th most by any NFL player in his first three NFL seasons. Young was a crucial component of the Redskins' league-high 2,709 rushing yards in 2012, which broke the team record of 2,625 set in 1983.

Young's selflessness in contributing to a greater purpose extends beyond his blocking. Throughout his tenure with the Redskins, Young has been a stalwart in the Washington, D.C. community. In 2014, the team honored him for his community contributions, naming him the organization's Walter Payton Man of the Year.

In addition to his frequent work with the Redskins Charitable Foundation, Young is also a Big Brother to a 12-year-old boy, Xavier, through Big Brothers Big Sisters of America. At the 2014 Welcome Home Luncheon, both Young and Xavier addressed the crowd to share their common experience.

"I thought, 'What am I doing that's so important that I can't impact a life?'"

- Fullback Darrel Young to FOX Sports' Alex Marvez, discussing his decision to become a Big Brother in the Big Brothers Big Sisters program

Though Young continues to adapt and thrive in his unsung hero role in Washington's offense, the "hero" label is nothing new to the Young family. Young was raised in a military family, as his father served in the Army and his brother, Sgt. 1st Class David Young Jr., has completed several tours in the Middle East in recent years. Young has travelled to visit troops in Honduras, Japan, Africa and El Salvador and elsewhere to show his appreciation for members of the military.

"I just run 100 yards and tackle people, hit people, block people. He's out there to serve the country. He's the real hero in my life."

- Fullback Darrel Young discussing his brother, Sgt. 1st Class David Young Jr., on ESPN's Sunday NFL Countdown (segment screenshot on right)

The mentality of sacrifice and hard work that was ingrained in Young while growing up in a military family established the foundation for his success doing football's so-called "dirty work" both as a fullback and as one of the Redskins' leaders on special teams.

SPOTLIGHT ON SPECIAL TEAMS

KICKER DUSTIN HOPKINS

The Redskins surprised many in Week 2 when they elected to move on from kicker Kai Forbath, the franchise leader in field goal percentage among players with at least 50 attempts, in favor of signing kicker Dustin Hopkins. At that point, Hopkins had never appeared in an NFL regular season game since being drafted by the Buffalo Bills in the sixth round of the 2013 NFL Draft.

“You can’t say enough about our kicker, Hopkins,” Gruden said in late October. “I mean, what he’s done is taken over for an established kicker.”

The results have been hard to argue with, as Hopkins has supplemented his field goal kicking (23-of-26) with his status as a much-needed weapon in the field position battle.

“You look at the total package of what a kicker needs to bring to your football team and we were looking for a little bit of a stronger leg, especially on kickoffs,” Gruden said on the day the team signed Hopkins. “That’s the bottom line.”

Across the 2013-14 seasons, the Redskins ranked third-to-last in the NFL in touchback percentage, recording touchbacks on only 34.0 percent of kickoffs. In 12 games this season, Hopkins has registered touchbacks on 47-of-69 kickoffs (68.1 percent), the eighth-best percentage of any NFL kicker in 2015.

Though the Redskins have been pleased with Hopkins’ ability to boot the ball 75 yards through the back of the endzone, his ability to get it to stop and turn on a dime after 10 yards was vital to a Redskins’ victory against Tampa Bay in Week 7. After facing an early 24-0 deficit, the Redskins scored late in the first half and at the start of the second half to cut the lead to 24-14, at which point Gruden and Special Teams Coordinator Ben Kotwica turned to Hopkins to deliver a surprise onside kick early in the third. Receiver Rashad Ross batted the skidding ball to safety Trenton Robinson, ending a league-wide 0-for-24 skid on onside kick attempts to start the season. The onside kick helped jumpstart the Redskins en route to recording the largest comeback victory in franchise history.

“His onside kicks, they’re like magic balls. I don’t know how he keeps them in play.”

- Head Coach Jay Gruden on kicker Dustin Hopkins’ onside kicks

The kick was the Redskins’ first successful onside attempt since Nov. 4, 2007 at the New York Jets (Shaun Suisham, recovered by Rock Cartwright). It was only the fourth successful onside kick by the Redskins since the turn of the century and ended a streak of 18 unsuccessful onside kick attempts by the Redskins over the past nine seasons.

SUCCESSFUL ONSIDE KICKS (REDSKINS SINCE 2000):

Year	Week	Qtr.	Opp	Kicker
2015	7	3	TB	Dustin Hopkins
2007	9	2	NYJ	Shaun Suisham
2003	5	4	PHI	John Hall
2000	12	3	STL	Scott Bentley

Hopkins spent the 2015 offseason with the New Orleans Saints and got a small measure of revenge against his former team in Week 10, converting 4-of-4 field goal attempts and 5-of-5 extra point attempts in a 47-14 rout. His 17 points tied the most by a Redskins kicker in a single game since the 1970 merger, as the 17-point mark had previously been reached by Chip Lohmiller (Dec. 30, 1990 vs. Buffalo) and Mark Moseley (Oct. 17, 1983 at Green Bay).

PUNTER TRESS WAY

The Redskins spent the majority of the 2014 offseason evaluating a punting battle between newcomers Robert Malone and Blake Clingan, but the race received a darkhorse candidate when the team claimed punter Tress Way off waivers from Chicago on Aug. 20 that year. Way was given 10 days to stake a claim to the punting job, a task he performed en route to making his NFL debut at Houston in the 2014 season opener.

In 2014, Way’s punting numbers rewarded the coaching staff’s faith. Way averaged 47.5 yards per punt, the 35th-best single-season average in NFL history and the highest by a Redskins player since World War II.

Way finished the season averaging 47.5 yards per punt to rank fourth in team history, trailing only Sammy Baugh’s full-season NFL record (51.4 yards per punt in 1940) and Baugh’s 1941 and 1942 campaigns (48.7 and 48.2). Way became the first member of the Redskins to lead the NFL in punting for a season since Sam Baker in 1958 (45.4). It marked the seventh time a Redskins player had led the league in punting average dating back to 1939 (Baker once, Baugh five times — 1940-43, 1945).

REDSKINS TO LEAD NFL IN PUNTING SINCE 1939:

Sammy Baugh	1943	45.9
Sammy Baugh	1942	48.2
Sammy Baugh	1941	48.7

Though Way was new to Washington in 2014, he was no stranger to playing for the Redskins. The University of Oklahoma product is a native of Tulsa, Okla., where he played his prep career for the Union H.S. Redskins. Part of the school’s pregame traditions include chanting “All My Life I Wanted To Be A Redskin” and “Work, Work, Baby, Work, Work.”

“I must’ve got 65, ‘All my life I wanted to be a Redskin’ texts,” Way told multiple news outlets after making the team’s Week 1 roster.

His reply via text: “Work, work, baby, work, work!”

JAY GRUDEN

HEAD COACH

12TH NFL SEASON // 2ND WITH REDSKINS

Jay Gruden is entering his second season with the Washington Redskins in 2015 after being named the 29th head coach in franchise history on January 9, 2014.

Previously a decorated quarterback in the college and Arena Football League ranks and a successful NFL assistant, Gruden assumed control of the Redskins in 2014 and guided the team through a campaign in which three different quarterbacks (Robert Griffin III, Kirk Cousins and Colt McCoy) recorded victories as starters. He installed an offensive system that helped the Redskins to team records in completions (364) and completion percentage (66.5) and helped produce two Pro Bowlers in his first season, earning repeat berths for tackle Trent Williams and running back Alfred Morris.

Excluding interim coaches, Gruden, 46 at the time of his hiring, became the team's youngest head coaching hire since hiring eventual Pro Football Hall of Famer Joe Gibbs at 40 years of age in 1981. He became the first Redskins coach hired directly from an offensive coordinator role on another team since Norv Turner in 1994.

Before joining the Redskins, Gruden spent his previous three seasons as offensive coordinator for the Cincinnati Bengals. In his tenure in Cincinnati, the Bengals averaged 10 wins a season, making three consecutive playoff appearances and earning an AFC North championship in 2013. Members of the Bengals' offense accounted for seven Pro Bowl selections in his three seasons in Cincinnati.

Gruden was tasked with the development of quarterback Andy Dalton, a 2011 second-round pick. In three seasons together, Gruden helped Dalton to a 30-18 regular season record as a starter (.625), as Dalton's 30 wins in that time frame ranked tied for fifth-most among NFL quarterbacks. Dalton's 80 passing touchdowns rank third-most in NFL history for a quarterback in his first three seasons, trailing only Dan Marino (98) and Peyton Manning (85).

Prior to joining the Bengals, Gruden served two years with the Florida Tuskers of the United Football League from 2009-10. In 2009, Gruden served as offensive coordinator as the Tuskers compiled a 6-0 regular season record and earned a UFL championship game berth. In 2010, he assumed the roles of head coach and general manager and led the Tuskers to their second consecutive championship game appearance.

Gruden coached for seven seasons (2002-08) with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, earning a Super Bowl championship ring as an offensive assistant in 2002. There he worked under his brother, Jon, then the Bucs' head coach, and current Redskins President Bruce Allen, the Bucs' general manager from 2004-08. Gruden helped guide the Buccaneers to the team's first league championship, a 48-21 victory in Super Bowl XXXVII.

Gruden also ranks among the most outstanding players and coaches in the history of the Arena Football League, having won six combined league championships – four as a quarterback and two as a head coach. Gruden played quarterback (2002-03) and served as head coach (2004-08) of the AFL's Orlando Predators, all while simultaneously working as an offensive assistant with the Buccaneers. In all, Gruden served as head coach of the Predators for nine seasons (1998-2001 and 2004-08), leading the Predators to four championship game appearances and two league titles as a coach. During a two-year hiatus from coaching the Predators in 2002-03, he returned to the playing field as Orlando's quarterback, leading the Predators to playoff appearances in both seasons.

In his eight seasons as a player in the AFL, Gruden completed 1,673-of-2,775 passes (60.3 percent) for 21,578 yards with 398 touchdowns and 99 interceptions. In addition to his time with Orlando, he spent six seasons (1991-96) at quarterback for the Tampa Bay Storm, winning four AFL titles and being named MVP of ArenaBowl VII in 1993. He was also named the 1992 AFL Most Valuable Player and was honored with induction into the AFL Hall of Fame in 1999.

Gruden played quarterback for four seasons for former Redskins draft pick Howard Schnellenberger at the University of Louisville (1985-88) and was a two-time team MVP.

Gruden was born March 4, 1967 in Tiffin, Ohio. He and his wife, Sherly, have three sons — J.J., Joey and Jack.

BEN KOTWICA

SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR

9TH NFL SEASON // 2ND WITH REDSKINS

Ben Kotwica was named as the Redskins' special teams coordinator on January 15, 2014.

Kotwica is entering his ninth NFL season and his second with the Redskins in 2015 after spending the first seven years of his NFL career in various coaching capacities with the New York Jets. Before assuming the role of coordinator for the Jets in 2013, Kotwica assisted with the Jets' special teams in multiple roles across the 2007-12 seasons.

In his first season in Washington in 2014, Kotwica's tutelage and eye for talent helped first-year punter Tress Way (47.5 yards per punt) become the first member of the Redskins to lead the NFL in punting for a season since Sam Baker in 1958. Way's average ranked fourth in team history, a feat he accomplished in a season in which he was given 10 days to earn the punting job after being claimed off waivers late in the preseason. Kotwica also helped kicker Kai Forbath successfully convert 24-of-27 field goals (88.9 percent) in 2014, the third-highest percentage in a single season in franchise history.

Prior to Kotwica's arrival in Washington, the Jets accounted for 10 combined kick and punt return touchdowns during his time as an assistant in New York, tied for most in the AFC and tied for second-most in the NFL. The Jets averaged a league-best 24.6 yards per kick return in those six seasons and had a kick returner finish in the Top 5 in the NFL in kick return four times (Joe McKnight, 2012; Joe McKnight, 2011; Brad Smith, 2010; and Leon Washington, 2007). Kotwica helped Leon Washington earn his first career Pro Bowl berth as a kick returner following the 2008 season.

In addition to his football career, Kotwica's background includes his time as a decorated officer who spent eight years in the United States Army after graduating from the United States Military Academy at West Point. His military career included operations in Bosnia-Herzegovina, Korea and Iraq.

Kotwica was commissioned as a 2nd Lieutenant in the Aviation Branch of the Army and was selected to fly the AH-64 Apache Longbow, the world's best attack helicopter. He was an Attack Helicopter Platoon Leader in support of the 82nd Airborne Division from 1998-2001, where he was responsible for the health and welfare of 20 soldiers.

In 2000, Kotwica deployed to Bosnia-Herzegovina for eight months before returning to the states to attend the Aviation Captain Career course. He completed the course in the top 10 percent of his class. Two years later, he returned overseas to Camp Page, Korea where he served as a Military Intelligence Officer for six months. In early 2003, he was selected to serve as the Battalion Executive Officer for a unit comprised of more than 300 soldiers, 24 attack helicopters and more than $400 million worth of equipment.

In January 2004, he briefly returned to Fort Hood, Texas to serve as the Training Officer for the 1st Cavalry Division. Two months later, he deployed in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom II, serving as a Combat Attack Helicopter Commander and flying more than 1,000 combat hours in support of five maneuver Brigades within the 1st Cavalry Division. His missions included convoy security operations; VIP escorts for former President George W. Bush, former Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld and former Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice; and search and destroy missions to suppress insurgent activities.

During his service, Kotwica was awarded with the Army Achievement Medal, the Army Commendation Medal, the Meritorious Service Medal and the Bronze Star.

Kotwica played at Army from 1993-96 and was a three-year starter at linebacker. He was the captain of the only 10-win team in Army history, leading the Black Knights to a 10-2 record and the program's most recent Commander-in-Chief's Trophy in 1996.

SEAN MCVAY

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

7TH NFL SEASON // 6TH WITH REDSKINS

Sean McVay was named the Redskins' offensive coordinator on January 15, 2014. McVay enters the 2015 season in his second season as the team's offensive coordinator after spending three seasons as the team's tight ends coach (2011-13) and one as an offensive assistant (2010).

In his first season as Offensive Coordinator in 2014, McVay helped the offense to a top 10 league ranking in yards per play (5.7) despite starting three different quarterbacks. His work with the three passers was instrumental in setting a team record for completion percentage (66.5 percent) and helped facilitate the explosive debut season of wide receiver DeSean Jackson, who averaged a league-best 20.9 yards per reception and became only the fourth player in team history to lead the NFL in that category.

In 2013, McVay played a crucial role in the development of rookie tight end Jordan Reed, who compiled 45 receptions for 499 yards – both Redskins' single-season rookie tight end records – despite Reed playing in only nine games. Under McVay's tutelage, Reed joined Chris Cooley (2004) as the only Redskins tight ends named to the PFWA All-Rookie Team. In addition, McVay helped tight end Logan Paulsen from an undrafted free agent into a 30-game starter from 2010-13, with Paulsen increasing his reception totals each season.

During Washington's NFC East championship season in 2012, McVay's unit produced despite losing starting tight end Fred Davis to a torn Achilles tendon in Week 7. Davis had led the team in both receptions (24) and receiving yards (325) through seven games before being placed on the Reserve/Injured list. McVay guided a unit that provided reliable receiving options on top of contributing significantly as blockers to the Redskins' league-leading 2,709 rushing yards.

In 2011, McVay played an integral role in Davis' emergence, as the then-fourth-year tight end surpassed his previous career highs despite playing in only 12 games. Davis caught 59 passes for 796 yards, the second-highest total on the team in both categories. Before missing the final four games of the season, Davis was on pace to set a franchise record in receiving yards by a tight end and was on pace to post the first 1,000-yard receiving season by a tight end in Redskins history.

McVay served as an offensive assistant to the Redskins in 2010, in addition to working with the tight ends during the final four weeks of the season following coach Jon Embree's departure. The Redskins offense ranked eighth in the NFL in passing yards per game (244.6) and tight end Chris Cooley ranked second among NFL tight ends in receptions (77) and third in receiving yards (849). The offensive unit also set a franchise record for completions in a season (349), and registered a touchdown pass in 15 consecutive games for the first time in team history. The Redskins' offense led the NFL with nine completions of at least 50 yards, including one in four consecutive games for the first time since 1987.

McVay joined the Redskins prior to the 2010 season after an undefeated regular season with the Florida Tuskers of the United Football League (UFL). The Tuskers finished a perfect 6-0 before losing in the UFL's inaugural championship game. McVay served as the Tuskers tight ends coach in addition to working closely with the team's running backs. McVay originally entered the National Football League as an offensive assistant with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 2008.

During his time in Tampa Bay, McVay worked closely with wide receiver Antonio Bryant, who recorded career highs in receptions (83), receiving yards (1,248), and touchdowns (seven), en route to winning The Sporting News Comeback Player of the Year Award.

McVay graduated from Miami University (Ohio) where he played wide receiver from 2004-07, earning Miami's Scholar-Athlete Award in 2007. His grandfather, John, served in various roles – including vice president/director of football operations from 1983-94 – for the San Francisco 49ers from 1979-95, overseeing five Super Bowl championship squads and earning induction into the 49ers Hall of Fame in 2013.

He helped in the development of wide receiver Brandon Marshall, who was selected for his third Pro Bowl and first as a member of the Dolphins. ## KIRK OLIVADOTTI

LINEBACKERS

13TH NFL SEASON // 13TH WITH REDSKINS

Kirk Olivadotti was named the Redskins' inside linebackers coach on January 16, 2014.

Olivadotti returned to the Redskins – with whom he spent 11 NFL seasons in various capacities from 2000-10 – in 2014 after three years coaching inside linebackers at the University of Georgia from 2011-13. Olivadotti is one of 11 members of the Redskins' assistant coach honor roll, which recognizes coaches with at least 10 seasons of service as an assistant in Washington.

In his first season back in Washington in 2014, Olivadotti's tutelage helped third-year linebacker Keenan Robinson blossom in his first season as a starter. Despite missing three games, Robinson led the Redskins with 108 total tackles (according to STATS, LLC), including a 14-tackle performance in a win vs. Tennessee in which Robinson earned NFC Defensive Player of the Week honors.

At Georgia, Olivadotti coached a linebacker corps that produced NFL draft picks Jarvis Jones and Alec Ogletree. The Bulldogs averaged 10 wins a season in Olivadotti's three years, including ending the 2012 season with a 12-2 record and a No. 5 national ranking.

During Olivadotti's initial 11-season stint with the Redskins, Washington finished in the top 10 in the NFL in overall defense on eight occasions. The Redskins allowed an average of 313.1 yards per game in Olivadotti's 11 years on staff, fourth-fewest in the NFC and seventh-fewest in the NFL in that time frame.

In 2009, he tutored a pair of linebackers to their first Pro Bowl in London Fletcher, who earned his initial trip in his 12th season, and Brian Orakpo, who was one of four NFL rookies selected. Fletcher led the Redskins in tackles with 172 and added two sacks, one interception and 10 passes defended. He eclipsed the 100-tackle mark for the 11th consecutive season.

Orakpo became the first Redskins defensive rookie to make the Pro Bowl since the 1970 merger. He is only the second Redskins rookie to be chosen, joining kick returner Tony Green (1978). Orakpo finished with 60 tackles, including three for loss, 11 sacks for 76 yards lost, one forced fumble and two passes defended. He led all rookies in sacks and tied for most among NFC linebackers with Dallas' DeMarcus Ware. Orakpo's 11 sacks finished tied for seventh in the NFL and fourth in the NFC, and set the franchise rookie record, surpassing the previous mark of six by Dean Hamel (1985) and Andre Collins (1990).

In 2008, Olivadotti's linebackers played a pivotal role in Washington ranking fourth overall in yards allowed per game (288.8), sixth in points allowed per game (18.5) and eighth in rushing yards allowed per game (95.4 yards).

The previous year, in Olivadotti's first season as linebackers coach, Washington finished eighth in the NFL in overall defense (305.3 yards per game) and fourth in the league in rush defense (91.3 yards per game). The tandem of Fletcher (156 tackles) and Rocky McIntosh (105 tackles) finished as the team's top tacklers.

Throughout his NFL coaching career, Olivadotti has worked with some of the best defensive minds in the NFL, including Ray Rhodes, Marvin Lewis, Gregg Williams, Greg Blache and Jim Haslett. Olivadotti began his NFL coaching career with the Redskins in 2000 as a defensive quality control coach. He served in that role for four seasons and also helped coach the defensive backs.

He continued as quality control coach in 2004, but also took on a role assisting the Redskins' special teams units. In 2006, Olivadotti's role expanded to working with the Redskins' defensive line.

Olivadotti began his coaching career on the college level, working with wide receivers and tight ends at Maine Maritime for one season (1997). He moved to Indiana State as an assistant coach for two years (1998-99) before making the transition to Washington and the NFL.

Olivadotti was a four-year letter winner as a wide receiver at Purdue from 1993-96. He earned his bachelor's degree in education and his master's degree in education administration, both from Purdue. He is the son of Tom Olivadotti, a long-time defensive coach in the NFL with Cleveland, Miami, Minnesota, the New York Giants and Houston. Kirk and his wife, Keely, have a daughter, Kasyn, and a son, Kruz.

WES PHILLIPS

TIGHT ENDS

9TH NFL SEASON // 2ND WITH REDSKINS

Wes Phillips was named the Redskins' tight ends coach on January 17, 2014.

In his first season in Washington in 2014, Phillips guided Niles Paul to a breakout campaign, as the special teams standout became shattered career highs in receptions (39) and receiving yards (507) after entering the season with 14 career catches and 228 career receiving yards to his credit in his first three years in the league. Phillips also oversaw the development of Jordan Reed, who finished third on the team with a career-high 50 receptions in his sophomore campaign.

Prior to joining the Redskins, Phillips spent seven seasons in various capacities with the Dallas Cowboys. He joined Dallas in 2007 as the club's quality control/offensive assistant coach before relinquishing his role as a quality control coach in 2011 to become the club's assistant offensive line coach in addition to continuing to assist special teams. In 2013, Phillips was named the tight ends coach, helping Jason Witten post the second-most touchdowns in a season in his career (eight).

In 2012, Phillips assisted with an offensive line that helped the Cowboys finish with 5,994 net yards, the third-most in a season in franchise history, and set a single-season club record with 4,729 passing yards despite having Phil Costa, the team's starting center, for only three games. In 2011, the unit integrated new starters at four of the five positions, helping Tony Romo post his third career 4,000-yard season while rookie running back DeMarco Murray established a single-game team rushing record with a 253-yard performance against St. Louis (10/23).

In Phillips' four seasons as Dallas' quality control/offensive assistant coach from 2007-10, the Cowboys' offense posted total yardage numbers ranking in the Top 10 in team history three times, including setting single-season club records in 2010 that included 6,390 yards of total offense - marking the first time a Cowboys team topped 6,000 yards in a season in team history - and 4,287 passing yards. The offense as a whole finished second in the league in total offense, averaging 399.4 yards per game.

Before landing in Dallas, Phillips coached quarterbacks at Baylor in 2006. His work with quarterback Shawn Bell paid dividends as Bell established school single-season records despite missing the final three games with a knee injury.

Prior to his one-year stint at Baylor, Phillips spent two seasons as the quarterbacks coach at West Texas A&M University. The Buffaloes celebrated their most successful season in almost 55 years in 2005, finishing 10-2 to post their first winning season since 1998 and the program's first 10-win season since 1950.

WTAMU won the Lone Star Conference with an 8-1 record, its first league title since 1986 and advanced to the quarterfinals of the NCAA D-II Playoffs for the first time in school history. The school led the 2005 Division II ranks in passing offense, racking up 363.8 yards-per-game. He tutored quarterback Dalton Bell, a finalist for the Harlon Hill Trophy, which goes to the top Division II player.

Prior to joining the WTAMU staff, Phillips spent one season as a student assistant coach at his alma mater, UTEP, and played two seasons at quarterback for the San Diego Riptide of the af2.

A three-year letterwinner at UTEP (1999-2001), Phillips was a member of the 2000 Miners team that shared the WAC title, posted the school's highest win total in more than a decade and played in the Humanitarian Bowl. Phillips left the collegiate ranks among the school's single-season leaders in both pass efficiency (ninth - 120.0 in 2001) and completion percentage (eighth - 55.6 in 2001).

Phillips received his degree in philosophy from UTEP in 2001. Phillips and his wife, Anna, were married in 2009 and have one daughter, Ivy, and a son, Mac.

DOLPHINS 17, REDSKINS 10

LANDOVER, Md. – The Washington Redskins lost to the Miami Dolphins, 17-10, in front of an announced crowd of 76,512 people at FedExField in Week 1.

The game kicked off the Redskins' 84th season in franchise history and the franchise's 79th representing Washington, D.C. It was the first of 19 games on the 2015 NFL schedule that represented Super Bowl rematches, and Joe Theismann and Bob Griese served as honorary team captains for the Redskins and Dolphins, respectively.

The Redskins outgained the Dolphins, 349-256, including a 161-74 edge in rushing yards. The Redskins' 161 rushing yards and 37 rushing attempts were both the second-highest totals of the Jay Gruden era (42 carries for 191 yards vs. Jacksonville on Sept. 14, 2014).

Running back Alfred Morris gained a game-high 121 rushing yards on 25 carries, recording his 12th career 100-yard rushing game and tying him with Earnest Byner, Terry Allen and George Rogers for fifth-most 100-yard games in franchise history. Morris also became the sixth player in franchise history to reach 4,000 career rushing yards as a member of the Redskins, joining John Riggins, Clinton Portis, Larry Brown, Stephen Davis and Terry Allen.

Quarterback Kirk Cousins started and completed 21-of-31 passes for 196 yards with one touchdown and two interceptions. The touchdown, a four-yard pass to tight end Jordan Reed, was the 19th passing touchdown of Cousins' career and the fourth receiving touchdown of Reed's career.

Linebacker Preston Smith, the team's second-round draft pick in the 2015 NFL Draft, recorded his first career sack, forced fumble and fumble recovery on a single play in the third quarter.

Despite the loss, the Redskins remain 8-4 all-time in Week 1 games at FedExField. The decision pushed the Redskins to 40-40-4 all-time in season openers, including a 24-22 record in openers since the 1970 merger.

REDSKINS 24, RAMS 10

LANDOVER, Md. – The Washington Redskins earned their first victory of the 2015 season in Week 2, defeating the St. Louis Rams, 24-10, in front of an announced crowd of 72,460 at FedExField.

A week after rushing for 161 yards against the Miami Dolphins, the Redskins gained 182 rushing yards against the Rams, marking only the third time since 1950 that the Redskins have opened a season with consecutive 150-yard rushing games (1952 and 2012). It represented the first time Redskins had rushed for at least 150 yards in consecutive games since Weeks 10-11 of the 2013 season.

Running back Matt Jones recorded career highs in rushing attempts (19), rushing yards (123) and rushing touchdowns (two). The 100-yard rushing game was the first of Jones' career and the first by a Redskins rookie since Alfred Morris on Dec. 30, 2012 (vs. Dallas). With the back-to-back 100-yard rushing games by Jones and Alfred Morris, the Redskins had two different players recording 100-yard rushing efforts in consecutive games for the first time since Weeks 6-7 of the 2012 season (Robert Griffin III and Morris).

The Redskins held the Rams to zero points in the first half. Prior to Week 2, the last time the Redskins held an opponent scoreless in the first half also came against the Rams on Oct. 2, 2011 (led 14-0, won 17-10). The Redskins' 17-point halftime lead was the team's largest halftime margin since holding a 25-point halftime lead at Dallas on Thanksgiving Day in 2012.

The Redskins improved to 25-13-1 all-time against the Rams, including postseason play. The Redskins are now 23-11-1 all-time against the Rams in regular season play. The win was the Redskins' first against an NFC West opponent since earning a 23-17 victory against the Seattle Seahawks on Nov. 27, 2011.

GIANTS 32, REDSKINS 21

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. – The Washington Redskins fell to the New York Giants, 32-21, in front of an announced crowd of 76,081 people at MetLife Stadium in Week 3.

Wide receiver Rashad Ross scored his first career kickoff return touchdown on a 101-yard return in the fourth quarter. His kickoff return touchdown was the Redskins' first since Oct. 31, 2010 (Brandon Banks, 96 yards at Detroit). The 101-yard kickoff return tied Brian Mitchell for the second-longest in team history (vs. SD on Dec. 6, 1998).

Running back Chris Thompson led the Redskins with eight receptions, marking the first time since Week 11 of the 2014 season that a running back led the team in receptions in a game (Roy Helu, Jr. vs. Tampa Bay). He scored on a four-yard reception from Kirk Cousins, Thompson's second career receiving touchdown and his first of the season. Thompson became the first member of the Redskins to record a receiving touchdown in consecutive road games against the Giants since Santana Moss across the 2011-12 seasons.

Tight end Jordan Reed led the Redskins with 96 receiving yards on six receptions, giving him the team lead in receiving yards in back-to-back weeks for the first time since Weeks 7-8 of his rookie season in 2013.

The Redskins' three scoring drives lasted 10, 13 and 12 plays, respectively. Entering the game, the Redskins were averaging 10.67 plays per scoring drive, the second-longest average in the NFL.

FedExField (Landover, Md.)

REDSKINS 23, EAGLES 20

LANDOVER, Md. – The Washington Redskins evened their 2015 record at 2-2 with a 23-20 come-from-behind victory against the Philadelphia Eagles in front of an announced crowd of 74,767 people at FedExField in Week 4.

Quarterback Kirk Cousins recorded a career-high 31 completions on 46 attempts for 290 yards with one touchdown and no interceptions. His 31 completions were the most by a Redskins quarterback in a single game against Philadelphia in the 161-game history of the Redskins-Eagles rivalry.

Cousins engineered a 15-play, 90-yard drive in 5:39 to complete his first fourth-quarter come-from-behind victory as a starter. It marked the second time in his career he contributed to a come-from-behind victory in the fourth quarter, joining his contributions as a reserve vs. Baltimore on Dec. 9, 2012. The fourth quarter comeback was the Redskins' first since coming back to defeat the Tennessee Titans, 19-17, in Week 7 last season.

Cousins connected with wide receiver Pierre Garçon for a four-yard touchdown to win the game. The touchdown reception was the 30th of Garçon's career, becoming the 40th active player to reach 30 career receiving touchdowns.

The Redskins' first three scoring drives lasted 13, 10 and 10 plays, respectively. Washington's nine-play scoring drive in the third quarter snapped a streak of eight consecutive scoring drives of 10 plays or more. Per the Elias Sports Bureau, the most recent NFL team to have eight consecutive scoring drives last 10 plays or more was the 2007 Indianapolis Colts (a streak of nine such drives).

The Redskins recorded a 41:08-18:52 advantage in time of possession. The Redskins' 41:08 time of possession is the longest by the team in a game in records available dating back to 1991, surpassing the 41:04 recorded in an overtime contest vs. the New York Giants on Nov. 23, 1997.

ATLANTA – The Washington Redskins fell to the Atlanta Falcons in overtime, 25-19, in front of an announced crowd of 70,178 people at the Georgia Dome in Week 6. The defeat pushed Washington to 25-15-1 all-time in overtime games.

Kicker Dustin Hopkins converted a career-long 52-yard field goal with no time remaining in regulation to force overtime. He became the first Redskins kicker to force overtime with a game-tying field goal in the final minute of regulation since John Hall vs. the New York Giants on Sept. 21, 2003. Hopkins' 52-yard field goal was the longest by a member of the Redskins since Dec. 24, 2011 (Graham Gano, 53 yards vs. Minnesota).

The field goal came as the culmination of a drive lasting 24 seconds, the team's quickest scoring drive by time since a nine-second drive in Week 3 at Philadelphia last season.

The Redskins won the turnover battle, 3-2. The Redskins forced three takeaways for the first time since Week 13 last season at Indianapolis. In Weeks 4-5, the Redskins recorded multiple takeaways in consecutive games for the first time since Weeks 12-13 last season.

Cornerback Bashaud Breeland tied his career high with four passes defended, set previously in Week 8 last season at Dallas. In the fourth quarter, Breeland recorded his third career interception, picking off Matt Ryan and recording a career-long 28-yard interception return.

Linebacker Ryan Kerrigan recorded two sacks. The multi-sack game was the seventh of Kerrigan's career and his first since Week 14 last season. Kerrigan moved into fifth-place on the Redskins' all-time sack list with a sack in the first quarter. The sack pushed Kerrigan past Brian Orakpo (40.0) in franchise history.

Defensive lineman Chris Baker recorded two forced fumbles, becoming the first member of the Redskins to record two forced fumbles in a game since Kerrigan on Nov. 13, 2011 at Miami.

REDSKINS 31, BUCCANEERS 30

LANDOVER, Md. – The Washington Redskins recorded their largest comeback in franchise history in Week 7, overcoming a 24-0 deficit to defeat the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, 31-30, in front of an announced crowd of 72,912 people at FedExField. Prior to the 24-point comeback, the Redskins had previously overcome 21-point deficits to win three times in team history, including most recently against Carolina in 1999.

Quarterback Kirk Cousins completed 33-of-40 passes for 317 yards with three touchdowns and no interceptions. He also rushed three times for 15 yards including a rushing touchdown. His career-high 33 completions tied Jason Campbell's franchise record set previously on Nov. 18, 2007 against the Dallas Cowboys.

Cousins posted the sixth game of 300 passing yards, three passing touchdowns and no interceptions by a Redskins quarterback in a win since the 1970 merger, joining Brad Johnson (Week 4 in 1999), Mark Rypien (Week 11 in 1990 and Week 11 in 1991) and Joe Theismann (Week 1 in 1982 and Week 5 in 1983). He became the first Redskins quarterback to record at least three passing touchdowns and at least one rushing touchdown in a single game since Trent Green on Nov. 22, 1998.

Including a comeback victory in Week 4 vs. Philadelphia, Cousins became the first player to throw game-winning passes in the final 30 seconds of the fourth quarter twice in the same calendar month since Drew Bledsoe in December 2005. Cousins became the first Redskins quarterback to engineer multiple fourth-quarter comebacks in a single season since Robert Griffin III (three in 2012).

Tight end Jordan Reed recorded career highs in receptions (11) and receiving touchdowns (two), including the game-winning six-yard touchdown catch in the final minute. He became the first member of the Redskins to record multiple receiving touchdowns in a game since Leonard Hankerson in Week 1 of the 2013 season and was the first Redskins tight end to do so since Fred Davis on Dec. 13, 2009 at Oakland.

PATRIOTS 27, REDSKINS 10

FOXBOROUGH, Mass. – The Washington Redskins fell to the New England Patriots, 27-10, in front of an announced crowd of 66,829 people at Gillette Stadium in Week 9.

The Redskins recorded two takeaways, marking the first time since Weeks 14-17 of the 2012 season and Week 1 of the 2013 season that the franchise had posted four multiple-takeaway games in a span of five regular season contests.

Linebacker Keenan Robinson recorded his first interception of the season – the second of his career – in the first quarter, picking off Patriots quarterback Tom Brady. The interception broke a streak of 232 consecutive home regular season pass attempts without an interception for Patriots quarterback Tom Brady, dating back to Dec. 14, 2014 vs. Miami.

Robinson returned the interception 44 yards, the team's longest interception return since a 45-yard return by cornerback David Amerson at Oakland on Sept. 29, 2013. The 44-yard interception return by Robinson was the longest by a Redskins linebacker since Antonio Pierce at San Francisco on Dec. 18, 2004 (78 yards).

Quarterback Kirk Cousins threw his career-high-tying 10th touchdown pass of the season in the fourth quarter, connecting with tight end Jordan Reed for a three-yard touchdown. Cousins became the first Redskins quarterback since Joe Theismann (1983) to throw a touchdown in each of the Redskins first eight games of a season.

With a 36-yard reception in the third quarter, wide receiver Pierre Garçon (3,151) moved past Roy Jefferson (3,119) for 12th-most receiving yards in Redskins history.

LANDOVER, Md. – The Washington Redskins defeated the New Orleans Saints, 47-14, in front of an announced crowd of 75,086 people at FedExField in Week 10.

The Redskins' 47 points and 33-point margin of victory were the team's most in each category since recording 52 points in a 35-point win against the San Francisco 49ers on Oct. 23, 2005 (52-17). The Redskins gained 514 offensive yards on 59 plays, the team's highest yardage total since a 559-yard effort against the Atlanta Falcons on Nov. 10, 1991, and averaged 8.7 yards per play. The last time the Redskins averaged at least eight yards per play in a single game was Sept. 29, 1996 against the New York Jets (8.3).

The Redskins matched their win total from a season ago (four) with seven games remaining. The team also extended their home winning streak to four games for the first time since 2012 (Weeks 11-17).

Quarterback Kirk Cousins completed 20-of-25 passes for 324 yards with a career-high four touchdowns and no interceptions for a passer rating of 158.3. Cousins' perfect passer rating (158.3) was the Redskins' first perfect passer rating among quarterbacks with at least 20 attempts in records available dating back to 1950.

Cousins posted the first perfect passer rating (158.3) of any NFL quarterback this season with a minimum of 20 attempts. He became the first Redskins quarterback to pass for at least 300 yards and post a rating of at least 150 in a game since Pro Football Hall of Famer Sammy Baugh on Oct. 31, 1948. Cousins was the first NFL quarterback to record a 158.3 rating with a completion percentage of 80.0 or better, 300-plus passing yards and at least four touchdown passes and no interceptions since Tom Brady on Oct. 21, 2007.

Running back Matt Jones recorded a team-high and career-high 131 receiving yards on three receptions. His 131 receiving yards were the most by a Redskins running back since Dec. 16, 1962 (Dick James, 140 yards). Jones' 78-yard touchdown reception marked the longest by a Redskins running back since Larry Brown on Nov 5, 1972 against the New York Jets (89 yards).

PANTHERS 44, REDSKINS 16

CHARLOTTE, N.C. – The Washington Redskins fell to the Carolina Panthers, 44-16, in front of an announced crowd of 74,418 people at Bank of America Stadium in Week 11.

In the first quarter, Kirk Cousins connected with wide receiver DeSean Jackson for a 56-yard touchdown. With the score, Jackson tied Joey Galloway (22) for the fifth-most total touchdowns of 50-plus yards since the 1970 merger. The reception was also Jackson's 31st career reception of 50 yards or more, the most by any player in the NFL since he entered the league in 2008.

With the touchdown pass, Cousins extended his career-best streak of consecutive games with a touchdown pass this season to 10 games. Cousins is the first Redskins quarterback to open a season with a passing touchdown in each of the first 10 games of a season since Pro Football Hall of Famer Sonny Jurgensen in 1967.

Wide receiver Andre Roberts returned a second-quarter kickoff 99 yards for a touchdown, his first career kickoff return touchdown. Including a 101-yard kickoff return touchdown by Rashad Ross in Week 3, the Redskins tied a team record with two kickoff return touchdowns in a single season for the fourth time in team history (2005, 1947, 1942). Roberts recorded a career-high 177 kickoff return yards, surpassing his previous career best of 117 yards, set in Week 11 last season vs. Tampa Bay.

With a sack of Carolina QB Cam Newton in the first quarter, linebacker Ryan Kerrigan moved past Ken Harvey (41.5) for sole possession of fourth place in team history for most sacks since the stat became official in 1982.

GAME 11

REDSKINS 20, GIANTS 14

LANDOVER, Md. – The Washington Redskins defeated the New York Giants, 20-14, in front of an announced crowd of 77,367 people at FedExField in Week 11. The win moved the Redskins into first place in the NFC East.

The Redskins extended their home winning streak to five games for the first time since 2004-05 seasons (Week 17 in 2004, Weeks 1-9 in 2005). The five-game regular season home winning streak was the team's first in a single season since winning their first six home games in Weeks 1-11 in the team's most recent Super Bowl title season in 1991. The Redskins improved to 5-1 at home, solidifying a 5-1 record through the first six home games of a season for the first time since 1992.

The Redskins recorded three takeaways, their sixth multi-takeaway game of the season. All three takeaways came on interceptions of Giants quarterback Eli Manning. Entering Week 12, Manning had been intercepted only six times through 10 games. The three-interception game was the Redskins' first since Oct. 27, 2013 at Denver.

The Redskins held a 17-0 halftime lead, marking the third time this season the Redskins had held an opponent scoreless in the first half (Week 2 vs. St. Louis and Week 4 vs. Philadelphia). The last time the Redskins held opponents scoreless in the first halves of three games in a single season was during the team's 1991 Super Bowl-winning campaign.

Quarterback Kirk Cousins completed 20-of-29 passes for 302 yards with one touchdown and no interceptions for a passer rating of 114.4. Including 300-yard performances at home vs. Tampa Bay in Week 7 and vs. New Orleans in Week 10, Cousins became the first Redskins quarterback since at least 1960 to record 300-yard passing performances in three consecutive home games.

With a second quarter sack of Manning, linebacker Ryan Kerrigan moved into a tie for third place in sacks in franchise history since the NFL made sacks an official statistic in 1982 (43.5, Monte Coleman). He later moved into sole possession of third place with a third-quarter sack of Manning.

COWBOYS 19, REDSKINS 16

LANDOVER, Md. – The Washington Redskins fell to the Dallas Cowboys, 19-16, in front of an announced crowd of 80,444 people at FedExField in Week 13. The game was the 17th meeting between the Redskins and Cowboys on Monday Night Football, tying Broncos/Raiders for the most-played matchup in Monday Night Football history.

Quarterback Kirk Cousins completed 22-of-31 passes for 219 yards with one touchdown and no interceptions for a passer rating of 101.4. With the performance, Cousins registered a passer rating of 100.0 or better in four consecutive home games, the longest such streak by a Redskins quarterback (min. 15 attempts in each game) since at least 1960.

Cousins tied the game in the final minute, connecting with wide receiver DeSean Jackson on a 28-yard touchdown pass. Jackson's receiving touchdown was his third of the season and the 40th of his career. Jackson became the 30th active player to reach 40 career touchdown receptions.

The touchdown gave Jackson receiving scores in three consecutive games for the first time since Weeks 14-16 of the 2009 season. Jackson became the second member of the Redskins this season to record a receiving touchdown in three consecutive games, joining tight end Jordan Reed (Weeks 7-10, excluding a bye in Week 8). Prior to the three-game streaks by Jackson and Reed this season, the last time the Redskins had at least two different players record three consecutive games with a receiving touchdown in a single season was 1991 (Art Monk, Terry Orr and Ricky Sanders).

The Redskins recorded three takeaways, all fumbles. It marked the second time this season the Redskins have recorded three takeaways in consecutive games (Weeks 5-6). The Redskins recovered three opponent fumbles in a single game for the fourth time since the turn of the century and for the first time since Oct. 17, 2010 vs. Indianapolis.

Soldier Field (Chicago)

REDSKINS 24, BEARS 21

CHICAGO – The Washington Redskins earned a 24-21 victory against the Chicago Bears in front of an announced crowd of 61,026 people at Soldier Field in Week 14. With the victory, the Redskins snapped a nine-game road losing streak and earned their first road victory since Week 8 last season at Dallas.

Quarterback Kirk Cousins completed 24-of-31 passes for 300 yards with one touchdown and one interception, finishing the game with a passer rating of 104.2. Cousins also added a three-yard rushing touchdown. The 300-yard passing performance was Cousins' fifth of the season, adding to his career high and tying a franchise record set three times previously (Sonny Jurgensen in 1967, Jay Schroeder in 1986 and Mark Rypien in 1989).

Cousins extended his career-long streak of games with a touchdown pass to 13. He is the first Redskins quarterback to open a season with a touchdown in 13 consecutive games since Pro Football Hall of Famer Sonny Jurgensen in 1967. He moved into sole possession of the third-longest streak of games with a passing touchdown in team history, trailing only Jurgensen (23 from 1966-68) and Joe Theismann (15 from 1984-85).

With his 24 completions on the day, Cousins (554) moved past No. 12 Norm Snead (531), No. 11 Eddie LeBaron (529), No. 10 Mark Brunell (542) and No. 9 Brad Johnson (544) for ninth-most career completions in franchise history. Cousins also exceeded the 300-completion mark for the season, the fourth 300-completion season in team history, joining Jason Campbell (315 in 2008 and 327 in 2009) and Brad Johnson (316 in 1999).

Tight end Jordan Reed led the Redskins with nine receptions for 120 yards with a touchdown. The 100-yard receiving game was the third of Reed's career and his first of the season. It was the first 100-yard receiving game by a non-running back for the Redskins since Week 16 last season (DeSean Jackson vs. Philadelphia).

In two career games against Chicago, Reed has now caught 18 passes for 254 yards with two touchdowns, exceeding the 100-yard mark in both contests.

The Redskins scored a touchdown on both their opening drive of the game and their opening drive of the second half, marking the first time the team had scored an opening-drive touchdown in both halves since Nov. 29, 2009 at Philadelphia.

GAME 14

REDSKINS 35, BILLS 25

LANDOVER, Md. – The Washington Redskins defeated the Buffalo Bills, 35-25, in front of an announced crowd of 80,124 people at FedExField in Week 15. With the win, the Redskins earned victories in consecutive games for the first time since Weeks 7-8 last season and matched their combined win total from the 2013-14 seasons (seven).

Quarterback Kirk Cousins completed 22-of-28 passes for 319 yards and tied his career high with four passing touchdowns. He also added a 13-yard rushing touchdown. Cousins became only the fourth Redskins quarterback since 1950 to record at least four passing touchdowns and a rushing touchdown in a single game, joining Trent Green (Nov. 22, 1998 vs. Arizona), Mark Rypien (Nov. 10, 1991 vs. Atlanta) and Norm Snead (Oct. 28, 1962 at the New York Giants).

Cousins finished the game with a passer rating of 153.7. It was his fourth consecutive game with a passer rating of 100.0 or better, the longest streak of his career, as he became the third Redskins quarterback since 1960 to post a streak of four or more games with a 100.0-plus passer rating (Robert Griffin III, five in 2012; Rypien, four in 1988).

The 300-yard passing game was Cousins' sixth of the season, breaking the Redskins' previous team record of five (Sonny Jurgensen in 1967, Jay Schroeder in 1986, Rypien in 1989). It was his 10th career 300-yard passing game, tied with Rypien for third-most in team history. With his 14th completion of the day – an eight-yard gain to running back Matt Jones – Cousins also broke the Redskins' franchise record for pass completions in a single season (327, Jason Campbell in 2009). Cousins finishes Week 15 with 336 completions this season.

Tight end Jordan Reed posted a team-high seven receptions, gaining 84 yards with two receiving touchdowns. He pushed his season receiving touchdown total to nine, tying Jerry Smith (nine in 1969 and 1970) and Pat Richter (nine in 1968) for second-most by a tight end in a single season in team history.

The multi-touchdown game was Reed's third of the season, as he became the first Redskins tight end to record at least three multi-touchdown games in a season since 1967 (four by Jerry Smith)

With the win, the Redskins snapped a six-game losing streak against the Bills, earning their first victory against Buffalo since Super Bowl XXVI.

GAME 15

Lincoln Financial Field (Philadelphia)

REDSKINS 38, EAGLES 24

PHILADELPHIA – The Washington Redskins clinched their 15th division title in team history with a 38-24 victory against the Philadelphia Eagles in front of an announced crowd of 69,596 people at Lincoln Financial Field in Week 16. The win completed the team's second "worst-to-first" one-season turnaround in team history (2012) after finishing last in the NFC East in 2014 with a 4-12 record.

Quarterback Kirk Cousins completed 31-of-46 passes for 365 yards with four touchdowns and zero interceptions for a passer rating of 120.3. The four-touchdown game was Cousins' third of the season, tying Pro Football Hall of Famer Sonny Jurgensen (three in 1964 and 1967) for the most in single season by a Redskins quarterback since 1960.

Tight end Jordan Reed caught a team-high nine passes for a season-high 129 yards with two receiving touchdowns. With the performance, Reed broke the Redskins' single-season receiving yardage record of 849, set previously three times (Chris Cooley in 2008 and 2010, Jerry Smith in 1967). It was Reed's second straight game with multiple touchdown receptions, becoming the third member of the Redskins to post two or more receiving touchdowns in back-to-back contests in a single season (Smith in 1967, Bobby Mitchell in 1962).

With the win, the Redskins improved to 4-0 this season when Reed records two touchdowns and 5-1 when he records at least 70 receiving yards.

Cornerback DeAngelo Hall recorded a 17-yard fumble return for touchdown in the third quarter to establish a two-score lead the team would never relinquish. With the touchdown, Hall tied Jessie Tuggle for second-most fumble returns for touchdowns in NFL history (five) and became the first player in NFL history to record at least five interception return touchdowns and five fumble return touchdowns in a career. The touchdown was the first by the Redskins' defense in Philadelphia since Sean Taylor's 39-yard fumble return to seal a playoff berth at Lincoln Financial Field on Jan. 1, 2006.

The victory was the Redskins' 600th in team history, including postseason play. Washington became the fifth NFL franchise to reach the 600-win mark (Bears, Packers, Giants and Steelers).
