REGULAR SEASON - WEEK 4

WASHINGTON REDSKINS (1-2) vs. PHILADELPHIA EAGLES (1-2)

Sunday, Oct. 4 — 1 p.m. ET
FedExField (82,000) — Landover, Md.

REDSKINS AND EAGLES RENEW DIVISION RIVALRY ON SUNDAY

The Washington Redskins will face their second divisional foe in as many weeks when the team returns home to host the Philadelphia Eagles last Sunday. Kickoff is scheduled for 1 p.m.

A win Sunday would mark the Redskins' second straight victory against the Eagles, including a Week 16 win against Philadelphia last season. Helping the Redskins' cause offensively is tight end Jordan Reed, whose 19 receptions this season are the most by a Redskins tight end through three games in team history. If Reed were to maintain his current pace for 16 games, he would finish with 101 receptions for 1,285 yards, both of which would shatter franchise marks by a tight end.

The Redskins will try to maintain the stout run defense that has held each of their first three opponents to fewer than 85 rushing yards. This week, the Redskins will try to hold an opponent to 85 or fewer rushing yards for a fourth consecutive game in a single season for the first time since Weeks 12-16 of the 1989 season.

Alumni Homecoming Weekend

* Subject to flexible scheduling

ALUMNI CENTER

Formally organized in 1958, the Washington Redskins Alumni Association was the first organization of its kind in the country. The organization spearheaded the alumni movement among former professional football players and was the model for other alumni groups that later formed in all NFL cities. Now entering its 57th year, the Alumni Association continues to celebrate those who have contributed to more than eight decades of Redskins football dating back to the team's inception in 1932.

The primary objectives of the Redskins Alumni are promoting a continuing interest in current and past players of the Washington Redskins, as well as promoting and fostering interest and funding for charitable purposes. With respect to the latter, the alumni conduct fundraising events to raise money that can be donated to charitable organizations or used in other ways to help improve the quality of life for youth in the Greater Washington community.

Today, Redskins alumni continue to make their presence known throughout the community. As a very active chapter of the NFL Alumni Association, their motto is "Caring for Kids." In addition to the numerous events and appearances Redskins Alumni participate in throughout the year, they hold two major fundraising events of their own — the Redskins Alumni Charity Golf Classic, now in its 37th year, and the annual Washington Redskins Welcome Home Luncheon, now in its 54th year.

The alumni have an office at Redskins Park and can be reached at 703-726-7488. Since his arrival in Washington in December of 2009, President Bruce Allen has made it a priority to build a bridge to the franchise's historic past. During the Redskins' NFC East title-winning season in 2012, that mission came to the forefront as the team celebrated its 80th anniversary.

"This year, the Washington Redskins will be celebrating our 80th anniversary season. I'm proud to be with the franchise in our nation's capital, one with such a rich tradition and gloried past on and off the field," Allen said in a July 2012 column filling in for Sports Illustrated's Peter King. "The current Redskins players, coaches, fans and staff owe a big debt of gratitude to the people who have made the Redskins one of the flagship franchises in sports."

Throughout the 2012 offseason, the Redskins traversed the Washington D.C./Maryland/Virginia area as part of the team's 'Thank You Tour,' which brought players, coaches, alumni, cheerleaders, team officials and more to fans throughout the entire region to help celebrate the team's historic heritage.

That heritage continues to be honored amongst the game's elite, as in August 2011, former Redskin great Chris Hanburger was enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio. He was presented by his son, Chris. Hanburger was voted into the Hall after being a nominee of the seniors committee. In all, he waited 28 years to be elected.

Hanburger joined Darrell Green (2008), Art Monk (2008) and Russ Grimm (2010) to make four players who spent the majority of their careers with the Redskins to earn the honor in the past five years. In addition, former Redskins Bruce Smith (2009) and Deion Sanders (2011) have also been elected over that time. Hanburger said of his election to the Hall of Fame: "It's wonderful, I'm overwhelmed. It's just such a tremendous honor to even be nominated, let alone be voted in. You have to think about all of the men that played before I did, certainly the men that I played with and against, and then you look at the guys playing now. It's just a select few that make it in. I was fortunate to play with players on the Redskins defense that made it all work for me."

On Sept. 2, the Washington Redskins Charitable Foundation and Redskins Alumni Association held the 54th annual Welcome Home Luncheon at the Ronald Reagan Building and International Trade Center in Washington, D.C. The annual event celebrates the burgundy and gold and kicks off each football season with Redskins players, coaches and alumni.

The Redskins Welcome Home Luncheon is annually the only event where fans and corporate partners have the chance to spend time with the entire Redskins team. Each table is guaranteed at least one player or coach seated with the attendees. Proceeds from the event benefit the youth programs of the Washington Redskins Charitable Foundation and Redskins Alumni Association.

This year, the Redskins used the 2015 event to honor their players for contributions both on and off the field. Wide receiver DeSean Jackson earned 2014 Bobby Mitchell Offensive Player of the Year presented by Neustar, linebacker Ryan Kerrigan earned the 2014 Sam Huff Defensive Player of the Year presented by comScore and punter Tress Way received the 2014 Mark Moseley Special Teams Player of the Year Award presented by Five Guys. In addition, quarterback Robert Griffin III won the 2014 Redskins Salute Award for his efforts with the military, and fullback Darrel Young accepted the 2014 Redskins Community Man of the Year presented by WashingtonFirst Bank. The team also used the event to announce that center Jeff Bostic and linebacker Monte Coleman will be inducted into the team's Ring of Fame later this season.

Also among the Redskins Alumni Association's premier events is the team's annual Alumni Homecoming celebration, which the Redskins hosted in 2014 during the team's Week 7 win against Tennessee. Not including staff and coaches, players in attendance represented nearly 500 combined seasons of Redskins service, 77 combined Super Bowl appearances, 47 combined Super Bowl titles, 25 members of the 80 Greatest Redskins, 14 Redskins Ring of Famers and five Pro Football Hall of Famers. In addition, as announced by Allen at the 2014 Welcome Home Luncheon, the Redskins used their 2014 Alumni Homecoming celebration to induct Super Bowl XXVI MVP Mark Rypien as the 46th member of the team's Ring of Fame.

"Homecoming and Alumni Weekend is very special," Rypien said. "We get to honor those that played before us that paved the path, that showed us what it was like to be a Redskin. We get to honor those who played after us that represented this organization. And last night, and throughout this day today, I get to honor those that I played with. A piece of every one of those players is up there with me along with the 56,000 fans at RFK Stadium that cheered us to a Super Bowl and greatness."

BREAST CANCER AWARENESS MONTH

Throughout the month of October, the Washington Redskins, along with the National Football League and NFL Players Association, will support October's National Breast Cancer Awareness Month. More information on the team's full plans for October will be distributed later this week.

The Redskins' annual Breast Cancer Awareness Game on Sunday, Oct. 4 against the Philadelphia Eagles will kick off the team's breast cancer awareness efforts. The Redskins' Breast Cancer Awareness Game will feature players, coaches and referees wearing pink game apparel, as well as additional on-field and in-stadium branding – all to help raise awareness.

Much of the apparel worn at games throughout October by players and coaches, along with special game balls and pink coins, will be auctioned off at NFL Auction, with proceeds benefiting the American Cancer Society's Community Health Advocates National Grants for Empowerment (CHANGE) program.

Fans attending the Oct. 4 game will be welcomed by Tanya Snyder, wife of Redskins owner Dan Snyder and NFL Breast Cancer Awareness Spokesperson, and hundreds of Zeta Tau Alpha members distributing THINK-PINK!® ribbons and breast cancer awareness educational materials. Mrs. Snyder and ZTA started the THINK-PINK!® campaign for breast cancer awareness in 1999. At the time, the Redskins were the only team in the league to participate. With the founding and continuous support of Mrs. Snyder and the Washington Redskins, ZTA created a national model for THINK-PINK!® throughout the NFL. Currently, all 32 teams in the NFL participate in the campaign.

This October, fans can join the Washington Redskins Charitable Foundation in promoting breast cancer awareness by purchasing a limited-edition "Fight On" t-shirt. Net proceeds will benefit the Redskins Charitable Foundation and the Zeta Tau Alpha Foundation to raise funds for breast cancer education and research, and support efforts to increase awareness about early detection. T-shirts are available online at www.Redskins.com/fighton and will be sold in-stadium on Oct. 4.

In addition, Mrs. Snyder and the Washington Redskins Charitable Foundation, in partnership with the American Cancer Society, will host the eighth annual All-Star Survivors Celebration at Redskins Park on Monday, Oct. 5.

The All-Star Survivors Celebration will pamper, support and celebrate 31 area women currently battling breast cancer. Each of the 31 women represents each of the 31 days in National Breast Cancer Awareness Month.

During the event, the breast cancer survivors, or "All-Stars," will receive new jeans donated by Gap Inc., as well as new wigs, scarves and a Redskins gift bag. All-Stars will be treated to lunch, makeup consultations, massages and a behind the scenes tour of Redskins Park from Redskins players. The All-Stars will also receive custom-made Redskins jerseys.

On Friday, Oct. 9, the team will kick off the Friday Night Lights THINK PINK!® initiative, a partnership between the Washington Redskins Charitable Foundation and Fairfax County Public Schools designed to promote breast cancer awareness and the importance of early detection at the high school level. The following Fairfax County matchups will feature pink gear and stadium equipment from the Redskins' Breast Cancer Awareness Game on Sunday, Oct. 4 against the Philadelphia Eagles.

- Oct. 9: Hayfield High School at Fairfax High School
- Oct. 16: Yorktown High School at McLean High School
- Oct. 30: Edison High School at Lee High School

All participating schools will support breast cancer awareness messaging and raise funds by selling pink t-shirts the week leading up to their game. Proceeds from t-shirt sales will be donated to the American Cancer Society.

The Redskins will also participate in and support the following ongoing initiatives, among others, throughout the month of October:

- Women of Washington Redskins (WOW), the official women's club of the Washington Redskins, will feature an interactive map on WOWredskins.com to promote breast cancer education and the importance of early detection by helping women find the breast cancer screening center closest to them.
- WOW and Mrs. Snyder will welcome the Charitable Foundation's All-Stars along with more than 200 WOW members, in a special pink-themed pregame party. In support of the charitable foundation, WOW will make a donation on behalf of every member who attends the pregame festivity, with each attendee receiving a limited edition BCA t-shirt.
- WOW will donate $1 to the American Cancer Society on behalf of each new member who joins the club throughout October, to benefit breast cancer research and outreach programs.
- Toyota will donate $50 to the American Cancer Society for every catch made by the Redskins this season to encourage fans to make the "Crucial Catch" and get screened annually.

On Monday, Oct. 5, the Redskins will host their eighth annual All-Star Survivors Celebration at Redskins Park (last year's event pictured above). Each year, Tanya Snyder, wife of Redskins Owner Daniel M. Snyder and NFL Breast Cancer Awareness Spokesperson, headlines the event, hosting area women battling breast cancer for a day of pampering and support. On Sunday, Mrs. Snyder and members of Zeta Tau Alpha will distribute THINK-PINK!® ribbons prior to the team's annual Breast Cancer Awareness game against the Philadelphia Eagles.

HEAD COACH JAY GRUDEN

Jay Gruden entered his second season with the Washington Redskins in 2015 after being named the 29th head coach in franchise history on January 9, 2014.

Previously a decorated quarterback in the college and Arena Football League ranks and a successful NFL assistant, Gruden assumed control of the Redskins in 2014 and guided the team through a campaign in which three different quarterbacks (Robert Griffin III, Kirk Cousins and Colt McCoy) recorded victories as starters. He installed an offensive system that helped the Redskins to team records in completions (364) and completion percentage (66.5) and helped produce two Pro Bowlers in his first season, earning repeat berths for tackle Trent Williams and running back Alfred Morris.

Excluding interim coaches, Gruden, 46 at the time of his hiring, became the team's youngest head coaching hire since hiring eventual Pro Football Hall of Famer Joe Gibbs at 40 years of age in 1981. He became the first Redskins coach hired directly from an offensive coordinator role on another team since Norv Turner in 1994.

Before joining the Redskins, Gruden spent his previous three seasons as offensive coordinator for the Cincinnati Bengals. In his tenure in Cincinnati, the Bengals averaged 10 wins a season, making three consecutive playoff appearances and earning an AFC North championship in 2013. Members of the Bengals' offense accounted for seven Pro Bowl selections in his three seasons in Cincinnati.

Gruden was tasked with the development of quarterback Andy Dalton, a 2011 second-round pick. In three seasons together, Gruden helped Dalton to a 30-18 regular season record as a starter (.625), as Dalton's 30 wins in that time frame ranked tied for fifth-most among NFL quarterbacks. Dalton's 80 passing touchdowns ranked third-most in NFL history for a quarterback in his first three seasons, trailing only Dan Marino (98) and Peyton Manning (85).

Prior to joining the Bengals, Gruden served two years with the Florida Tuskers of the United Football League from 2009-10. In 2009, Gruden served as offensive coordinator as the Tuskers compiled a 6-0 regular season record and earned a UFL championship game berth. In 2010, he assumed the roles of head coach and general manager and led the Tuskers to their second consecutive championship game appearance.

Gruden coached for seven seasons (2002-08) with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, earning a Super Bowl championship ring as an offensive assistant in 2002. There he worked under his brother, Jon, then the Bucs' head coach, and current Redskins President Bruce Allen, the Bucs' general manager from 2004-08. Gruden helped guide the Buccaneers to the team's first league championship, a 48-21 victory in Super Bowl XXXVII.

Gruden also ranks among the most outstanding players and coaches in the history of the Arena Football League, having won six combined league championships – four as a quarterback and two as a head coach. Gruden played quarterback (2002-03) and served as head coach (2004-08) of the AFL's Orlando Predators, all while simultaneously working as an offensive assistant with the Buccaneers. In all, Gruden served as head coach of the Predators for nine seasons (1998-2001 and 2004-08), leading the Predators to four championship game appearances and two league titles as a coach. During a two-year hiatus from coaching the Predators in 2002-03, he returned to the playing field as Orlando's quarterback, leading the Predators to playoff appearances in both seasons.

In his eight seasons as a player in the AFL, Gruden completed 1,673-of-2,775 passes (60.3 percent) for 21,578 yards with 398 touchdowns and 99 interceptions. In addition to his time with Orlando, he spent six seasons (1991-96) at quarterback for the Tampa Bay Storm, winning four AFL titles and being named MVP of ArenaBowl VII in 1993. He was also named the 1992 AFL Most Valuable Player and was honored with induction into the AFL Hall of Fame in 1999.

Jay Gruden, 46 at the time of his hiring, became the youngest head coach hired by the Redskins on a non-interim basis since the team hired 40-year-old Joe Gibbs in 1981.

Gruden played quarterback for four seasons for former Redskins draft pick Howard Schnellenberger at the University of Louisville (1985-88) and was a two-time team MVP.

Gruden was born March 4, 1967 in Tiffin, Ohio. He and his wife, Sherry, have three sons — J.J., Joey and Jack.

CHIP KELLY

Chip Kelly was named the head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles on January 16, 2013. Kelly is in his third year with the Eagles after a 22-year collegiate coaching career. Kelly currently holds a 21-14 (.600) regular season record.

Kelly led the Eagles to back-to-back 10-6 records while leading the team to a NFC East title in 2013 and second-place finish in the division last year. He became the second head coach in NFL history to win a division title in his first season in the NFL.

Over his first two years with the Eagles, the team has ranked second in the NFL in total net yards (407.0 per game), points per game (28.6) and rushing yards per game (142.5). Philadelphia became the first team since the 1991 Buffalo Bills to lead the league in rushing while ranking last in time of possession.

During Kelly's first two seasons in Philadelphia, many team records were broken, including in 2013 when the team set the record for total net yards (6,676) in a season. The Eagles offense set new team records for points scored in a season in back-to-back to years with 474 in 2014 and 442 in 2013.

Under Kelly, former Eagles running back LeSean McCoy led the NFL in both rushing attempts (314) and rushing yards (1607) in 2013. His 1,607 rushing yards were also a Philadelphia single-season record. In 2013, former quarterback Nick Foles had the third best quarterback rating (119.2) in NFL history. Last year, quarterback Mark Sanchez set the Eagles single-season completion percentage record (64.1 percent).

Kelly spent six seasons on the University of Oregon coaching staff serving as the offensive coordinator in 2007-08 before being named head coach in 2009. In his four seasons at Oregon, the Ducks went 46-7 in the regular season and 2-2 in bowl games, all four being BCS bowl games. In his first three seasons at the helm Kelly led the team to three undisputed conference championships.

Over his four seasons as head coach, Oregon averaged 44.7 points per game and led the FBS in 25-yard passing plays (220) and 25-yard rushes (110). In 2010, he led the Ducks to a 12-1 record but ultimately lost in the BCS Championship to the Auburn Tigers.

Following the season Kelly was named Coach of the Year from various outlets including Associated Press, Sporting News, The Walter Camp Football Foundation and other postseason titles including the Eddie Robinson Coach of the Year, AFCA Coach of the Year and Pac-10 Coach of the Year.

Before joining Oregon, Kelly served as a position coach and offensive coordinator at his alma mater the University of New Hampshire, from 1994-2006. Under Kelly's guidance, the New Hampshire offense averaged more than 400 yards of total offense in seven of his eight seasons with the team.

Ironically, Kelly got his first coaching opportunities on the defensive side of the ball with Columbia in 1990. After a one year stint as New Hampshire's running backs coach he returned to defensive coaching as a defensive coordinator for Johns Hopkins in 1993.

Kelly played quarterback and defensive back at New Hampshire for legendary coach Bill Bowes while earning a bachelor's degree in physical education from 1981-84. In high school Kelly was a football and track star while attending Manchester (N.H.) Central High School.

Charles "Chip" Kelly was born in Dover, NH, on November 25, 1963 and is the son of Paul and Jean Kelly.

Sunday's matchup between the Redskins and the Eagles will mark the 161st overall meeting between the division rivals. This is the 160th regular season meeting between the Redskins and Eagles' franchises, not including two meetings in 1943 when the Eagles merged with the Steelers to form the Phil-Pitt Steagles.

The Redskins lead the all-time regular season series 81-73-5. With exception of the 1943 season, the two teams have played a home-and-home series every year since 1936. Including a playoff win in 1990, the Redskins' 82 combined victories against the Eagles are their most against any opponent.

LAST MEETING

Redskins 27, Eagles 24

Associated Press
Dec. 20, 2014

LANDOVER, Md. -- The Philadelphia Eagles have proved themselves to be a mirage, a team that got away with its faults until it couldn't any longer. Leaders in the NFC East as recently as a week ago, they're now just about done in the playoff race, and they're in no position to argue that they deserve any better.

Penalties, missed field goals, two more turnovers by Mark Sanchez and an inability to keep track of former teammate DeSean Jackson turned into a 27-24 loss to the lowly Washington Redskins on Saturday night, the Eagles' third straight defeat and one that gives Dallas two chances to clinch the NFC East.

"We're currently minus-9 in the turnover margin, so us having nine wins is really impressive for that," said safety Malcolm Jenkins, echoing the mood of a locker room hit with a communal reality check. "And really we were on borrowed time playing that style of football. If we had run the table in December with that kind of football, it would have been surprising, and it's something we didn't fix."

Sanchez's interception with 1:31 remaining -- his 13th turnover in seven games -- led to Kai Forbath's winning 26-yard field goal with 5 seconds remaining as the Redskins (4-11) snapped a six-game losing streak.

The Eagles (9-6) will now be rooting for Indianapolis to beat the Cowboys (10-4) on Sunday. A Dallas win eliminates Philadelphia. A Dallas loss keeps a modicum of hope alive.

"I'm not going to throw a party and watch it," receiver Jeremy Maclin said. "I'm going to watch it at home."

The loss also knocked Philadelphia from the wild-card race and clinched a playoff berth for Detroit.

Sanchez set an Eagles record with 37 completions in 50 attempts for a career-high 374 yards with two touchdowns to Riley Cooper, and tight end Zach Ertz set a franchise game record with 15 catches. But Sanchez lost a fumble for the third time this season and threw his 10th interception to put the Eagles' NFL-leading turnover tally at 36.

Robert Griffin III, back from his recent benching after a season-ending neck injury to Colt McCoy, went 16-for-23 for 220 yards with one interception for the Redskins to win in his first complete game in 13 months. Griffin's only other win as a starter this season came when he was injured in the first quarter against Jacksonville in Week 2.

First-year coach Jay Gruden, who has frequently been critical of Griffin, gave a glowing assessment, saying RG III "did an outstanding job of managing the football game."

"You would think a 3-11 football team would just quit," Griffin said. "And we're not."

From the Eagles' perspective, everything seemed to go wrong in pairs. Two wide-rights by rookie kicker Cody Parkey -- doubling his number of misses this season -- were converted into two 1-yard touchdown runs by Darrel Young.

One of those Washington scoring drives included roughing-the-passer penalties by Brandon Graham and Vinny Curry in a span of four plays. The other drive featured a 55-yard over-the-shoulder grab by Jackson, the second 50-plus Griffin-to-Jackson connection in the game.

"I missed kicks and we lost the game," said Parkey, who has been battling a groin injury in his kicking leg. "I don't think there's any words to really describe it. You let yourself down. You let your teammates down. The kicks had nothing to do with my groin."

Curry also had a roughing-the-passer call on the Redskins' winning drive. Earlier, a pass-interference call on Nate Allen in the end zone set up Young's second scoring run. Philadelphia was flagged 13 times for 102 yards.

"We're beating ourselves with the penalties," defensive coordinator Bill Davis said. "They stay on the field, and they get more shots on goal, and bad things happen in the NFL."

The Eagles trailed 24-14 when Sanchez hit Cooper for a 16-yard score early in the fourth quarter, and Parkey kicked a 22-yard field goal with 6:17 to play.

But, on their next possession -- with the score tied and the season on the line -- Sanchez made the game's final mistake, the interception to rookie cornerback Bashaud Breeland at Washington's 42.

"We wanted to spoil their Christmas and send them home," Griffin said, "and we did our part."

Game notes: Jackson, cut by the Eagles after last season, caught four passes for 126 yards. ... Washington rookie LB Trent Murphy broke a bone in his right hand, and LT Trent Williams reagravated his sprained right shoulder.

A NEW BREED

The Redskins' heritage at offensive line runs deep in team lore, dating back to the beloved "Hogs" in the 1980s and 1990s. Their legacy instilled an appreciation for football's oft-anonymous workers in Redskins fans, and since that era of dominant line play, Redskins fans have called for a return of that identity.

Whether the offensive line can or should resurrect the "Hogs" nickname is a matter of debate, but what is not up for debate is the team's commitment to trying to create the next era of outstanding offensive line play in Washington.

When General Manager Scot McCloughan joined the Redskins in January 2015, he spoke of a desire to create a football team with a big, physical identity. To that end, McCloughan made two large offseason moves — one in scope and one in size.

The first move may loom largest, as on Jan. 15, exactly one week after taking the General Manager job, McCloughan named Bill Callahan as Offensive Line Coach. Three months later, McCloughan and Callahan made another big move, drafting behemoth 6-foot-5 Outland Trophy winner Brandon Scherff with the No. 5 overall pick.

Scherff, now the starting right guard, has paired with second-year tackle Morgan Moses to form a right side of the offensive line that the Redskins hope to feature for years to come.

"When it's all said and done, they've got the size, they've got the strength, they've got the footwork to be great offensive linemen," Head Coach Jay Gruden said of the duo.

Among the pieces already in place upon Callahan and Scherff's arrival in 2015 was one of the game's elite left tackles — Trent Williams. In August, the Redskins rewarded Williams with a lucrative contract extension that made him the game's highest-paid offensive tackle.

Williams, a three-time Pro Bowler, has blossomed since being selected with the No. 4 overall pick in the 2010 NFL Draft. The Redskins' offensive captain nicknamed "Silverback" is often described as a freak athlete, an imposing 337-pounder who recorded a 34.5-inch vertical and 4.87 40-yard dash at the 2010 NFL Combine. His breathtaking combination of size, speed and strength often leaves coaches, teammates and observers in awe.

"He's a giant of a man plus he's got the feet of a ballerina."

- Head Coach Jay Gruden on Trent Williams

"Yeah, that's blessed," Gruden said in 2014. "You can't teach what Trent Williams has. He's a giant of a man plus he's got the feet of a ballerina, so that is genetics right there at its finest."

Williams has continued a tradition of strong left tackle play in Washington this century. Between Williams (2012-14) and former Redskins great Chris Samuels (2001-02, 05-08), Redskins left tackles have been selected to seven of the last 10 Pro Bowls.

Since the start of the 2012 season, Williams and the Redskins' big men have helped the Redskins rush for more yards than all but two other teams.

NFL RUSHING YARDS SINCE 2012:

Team	Att.	Yds.	Avg.	TD
1. Seattle Seahawks	1,656	7,931	4.79	50
2. San Francisco 49ers	1,566	7,312	4.67	48
3. Washington Redskins	1,467	6,995	4.77	53
4. Minnesota Vikings	1,412	6,952	4.92	56
5. Kansas City Chiefs	1,440	6,688	4.64	49

"The linemen love it. They can get in their stance, come off, get their double teams, get up to the next level and they love to run the ball," Gruden said in September. "They like to come off the rock and blow people up and we're pretty good at it, I think."

"We're trying to emulate that and trying to carry on that tradition here and trying to live up to the standards that they've established."

- Offensive Line Coach Bill Callahan on The Hogs

BILL CALLAHAN

Bill Callahan knows all about "Boss Hog."

Joe Bugel, known colloquially as "Boss Hog," spent three decades in the NFL helping shape some of the most iconic offensive lines in football, creating Washington's beloved "Hogs" and helping pave the way to glory for the Redskins in the 1980s and 1990s.

It's a legacy that Bill Callahan, already one of the most esteemed offensive line teachers in the game today, admires and hopes to emulate.

"I've always admired what Joe Bugel has done," Callahan said during the offseason. "He had a great reputation then as he does now and he's just been kind of a mentor in a lot of ways watching his film and watching what he's done with players over the years."

In a sense, the identities and legacies of Callahan and the Redskins parallel one another. Both boast impressive histories of strong offensive line play, and both want to take cues from the franchise's past to perpetuate the tradition of great trench play in Washington.

"No single offseason transaction may impact this franchise more than the hiring of Callahan away from the rival Dallas Cowboys," Washington Times columnist Thom Loverro wrote in August. "Credited with being the architect of the Cowboys' impressive rushing offense last season, Callahan is being heralded as the savior who can return this team to the days that this fan base has longed for — running the ball down the throats of opponents with a group of big offensive linemen."

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

Leave it to the man nicknamed “Pot Roast” to try to christen a new moniker for the defensive line.

The Redskins entered the 2015 season defensive linemen, only two of whom (Kedric Golston and Chris Baker) predate the arrival of Head Coach Jay Gruden in 2014. During Gruden’s first offseason, the team made a splash in luring defensive end Jason Hatcher from the division rival Cowboys.

A year later, the Redskins added three defensive linemen with proven NFL pedigrees in nose tackle Terrance “Pot Roast” Knighton and defensive ends Stephen Paea and Ricky Jean Francois.

The turnover at the position has brought instant chemistry to the defensive line meeting room, and with it, a proposed nickname.

“We have a very silly group chat, the D-line room,” Knighton said during training camp. “I told the group I was going on SportsNation. I was like, ‘Give me a name, somebody give me a name. Something to get people riled up about, get the fans into it.’ One of the guys texts ‘Capital Punishment.’

“I can’t really tell you who really did it, but right now, we’ll just say [Jason] Hatcher came up with it. He can’t get any credit for it yet. But for right now, we’re just going to give the credit to Hatch.”

The group has been nearly inseparable throughout the offseason and into the 2015 regular season. In Week 2, the group debuted its newest sign of solidarity when its members both arrived at and departed from FedEx-Field wearing customized Washington Nationals jerseys featuring their nicknames and numbers: “Pot Roast” for Knighton, “Hatch” for Hatcher, “Big Ked” for Golston, “Bravo” for Paea, “Swaggy” for Baker and “Freak” for Jean Francois.

“It’s camaraderie, man,” Knighton said. “We love each other, we hang out a lot,” he explained. “You gotta be [a tight-knit group], especially the D-line. You gotta play together. We’ve got a lot of veterans in the room. Obviously, we’re all veterans. I always tell Hatch we gotta keep him young. This is part of it.”

While the nicknames and showings of togetherness make for great social media fodder, it’s the unit’s on-field performance and sheer depth that is the source of Head Coach Jay Gruden’s excitement.

“That’s what I like about our D-Line. I feel like we can keep them fresh and rotate them in there to make sure they all get a crack at it. We’re like a tag-team wrestling match, man. One guy goes out, we’ll tag one off and he’ll come in and wreak some havoc,” Gruden said. “I feel really good about our rotation. Whether it is five guys or six guys, we haven’t decided yet. They’ve all proven worthy of being in the lineup.”

- Head Coach Jay Gruden on Sept. 10

The group’s impact has been evident in the team’s ranking in total defense, as the Redskins’ 277.3 yards allowed per game sits first in the NFC and second in the NFL.

UP FOR GRABS?

Parity has been a topic de jour in the National Football League in recent years, and the league-wide trends provide the evidence.

Each year since the 12-team playoff format was adopted in 1990, at least four teams have qualified for the playoffs after missing the postseason the year before.

No division has seen more turnover at the top in the last four years than the NFC East. The division the Redskins call home is the only division in the NFL to have had all four teams earn a division title in the last four seasons.

JORDAN REED

Thanks to preseason attrition that saw fellow position comrades Niles Paul and Logan Paulsen lose their 2015 seasons to injury, third-year tight end Jordan Reed opened Week 1 as the team's only returning tight end.

As tight ends have blossomed in usage across the league to start the 2015 season, so too has Reed blossomed in the Redskins' offense. Through three games, Reed leads the Redskins in receptions (19) and receiving yards (241).

RECEPTIONS THROUGH THREE GAMES (REDSKINS TIGHT ENDS ALL-TIME):

Player	Season	Rec	Yds	Avg	Lg	TD
1. Jordan Reed	2015	19	241	12.7	29	1
2. Niles Paul	2014	18	253	14.1	48	1
3. Chris Cooley	2009	17	189	11.1	18	1
4. Four tied			14

If Reed were to maintain his current pace for 16 games, he would accrue 101 receptions for 1,285 yards, the former of which would shatter Chris Cooley's record of 83 from 2008 and the later of which would far surpass the 849 yards gained twice by Cooley and once by Jerry Smith.

RECEPTIONS BY A TIGHT END (SINGLE SEASONS IN REDSKINS HISTORY)

'MoJo'

The Redskins running back duo of Alfred Morris and Matt Jones — dubbed "MoJo" by the internet masses early in the 2015 season — have combined for 388 rushing yards on 85 carries through three games.

Morris (199 rushing yards) and Jones (189) became only the fourth Redskins duo since the 1970 merger to open a season with each player having accrued 185 or more rushing yards through three games.

DUOS WITH 185+ RUSHING YARDS EACH THROUGH THREE GAMES (REDSKINS SINCE 1970):

Season	Duo (Yards)
2015	Alfred Morris (199) & Matt Jones (189)

1978	John Riggins (244) & Mike Thomas (185)
1971	Larry Brown (232) & Charlie Harraway (214)

LONG SCORING DRIVES

Through three games, the Redskins nine scoring drives have averaged 11 plays, 66.6 yards and 5:34 of possession. Washington's average length scoring drive is the longest in the NFL both by play and by drive time.

AVG. PLAYS PER SCORING DRIVE (NFL, 2015):

Team	Avg. Plays Per Scoring Drive
1. Washington Redskins	11.00
2. Carolina Panthers	9.83
3. New Orleans Saints	9.55

A.M.-TRAK

Away from football, running back Alfred Morris might be best known for his beloved car — a 1991 Mazda 626 he affectionately names “Bentley.” Mazda volunteered 275 hours of work over four months to restore Morris’ famous ride, which he bought from his pastor for $2 in college.

It’s been Morris himself that’s run like an old classic since he entered the league in 2012. Morris was one of the engines that drove the Redskins to their first team rushing title since 1933 in 2012 and has continued to drive the Redskins’ offense ever since.

Morris’ 3,962 rushing yards across his first three seasons placed him among elite company in NFL history. His rushing total in his first three years was the 13th-most in league history, grouping him in a Top 15 that includes five current Pro Football Hall of Famers and several others sure to merit inclusion when eligible.

RHYTHM RUNNER

Each week, the Redskins emphasize their desire to get Alfred Morris into a rhythm.

"He's a guy that needs... carries to get lathered up," Running Backs Coach Randy Jordan told Liz Clarke of the Washington Post. "He is one of those throwbacks. You get to carry number 14, 15, 16, 17, and there's a big discrepancy [in the gains] between those carries and the first 10 carries."

The rationale is borne out by the numbers. Since entering the league in 2012, No. 46 has been elite on carries 6-10 and 11-15.

DESEAN JACKSON

DeSean Jackson's reality show DeSean Jackson: Home Team premiered on BET in July, aiming to highlight what one entertainment publication called "the star receiver and the women who run his life."

Jackson returns for his second season in Washington in 2015 after an electrifying debut campaign with his new "home team" in burgundy and gold. Though perhaps diminutive in size, there was nothing small about his performance in 2014, as the Cal product posted team highs in receiving yards (1,169) and receiving touchdowns (six) on 56 receptions.

In the process, Jackson finished the season with an NFL-best average of 20.9 yards per reception, the fifth-best mark in team history. He became the first member of the Redskins to finish a season as the NFL leader in yards per reception since Henry Ellard (19.5 in 1996) and was the fourth player in team history to accomplish the feat (Ellard in 1996, Jim Podoley in 1957 and Hugh Taylor in 1950).

But for the newly minted reality television star, Jackson isn't without a flair for the dramatic storyline. The Redskins knew first-hand what kind of playmaking ability Jackson possessed prior to signing him in 2014. In six years as a Philadelphia Eagle, he caught 32 passes for 572 yards (17.9 avg.) with five receiving touchdowns, his most receiving touchdowns against any opponent, in 11 games against Washington.

Jackson's explosiveness and flair for the dramatic took center stage in his return to Philadelphia in Week 3 last season. Despite being listed as questionable after suffering an injury to his AC joint a week earlier, Jackson played and played spectacularly in his debut against the Eagles, posting 117 receiving yards on five receptions including an 81-yard touchdown on a bomb in his return.

That kind of explosiveness that has turned heads for Jackson's entire career since he entered the league in 2008. Jackson leads the NFL in receptions of 50-plus yards (30) and total touchdowns of 50-plus yards (21) in that timeframe.

"The guy gets downfield and can adjust to the ball like nobody else," Head Coach Jay Gruden said.

"When that ball is in the air, I'm going to track it down. I've practiced a long time, a lot of hours, many weeks, many days doing that."

- Wide receiver DeSean Jackson

Jackson had another shot at his former team in Week 16 last year, adding 126 yards on four receptions in a 27-24 Redskins win. For the year, he finished with nine receptions for 243 yards in two games against the Eagles, his most in each category against any opponent last season.

But despite his performance and the win that spoiled his former team's playoff hopes, Jackson's perspective remained in place.

"Honestly, it's a great team win overall," Jackson said. "For us to come out on top like that, that's a great one. I give a shout out to all my boys in the locker room."

Last season, Jackson became the fifth member of the Redskins to post 1,000 receiving yards in his first season in Washington, joining Bobby Mitchell in 1962, Henry Ellard in 1994, Laveranues Coles in 2003 and Santana Moss in 2005. He led the NFL with eight receptions of 50-plus yards in 2014, pushing his NFL-best total of career receptions of 50-plus yards since entering the league to 30.

"He's starting to open up a little bit, and people have a lot of respect for him as a football player obviously for what he does when the lights are on," Gruden said last season.

#HBKERRIGAN

Call him “Heartbreak Kerrigan” (#HBKerrigan on Twitter) or call him “The Showstopper,” either way, Redskins fans can call Ryan Kerrigan their own for the foreseeable future.

On the day Redskins players reported to Richmond, Va., for training camp in 2015, the team announced it had reached a multi-year contract extension to keep the productive, reliable fan favorite in burgundy and gold. The extension came on the heels of a monster year for Kerrigan in 2014, as he started all 16 games for a fourth consecutive season and posted a career-high 13.5 sacks.

If patience is a virtue, the Redskins were virtuous in the first round of the 2011 NFL Draft, as the team opted to trade back from its No. 10 overall selection to the 16th overall pick. With the selection, the Redskins selected Kerrigan, the then-defensive end out of Purdue.

Named to his first career Pro Bowl following the 2012 season, the Muncie, Ind. native registered 8.5 sacks in each of the 2012-13 seasons after posting 7.5 in his rookie season in 2011 and exploded in 2014 with a career-high 13.5 sacks. But his productivity has been matched by his reliability, as he has started all 67 regular season games and one postseason game played by the organization since his selection in 2011.

In Week 2 of the 2014 season, Kerrigan launched a simultaneous assault on Jaguars quarterback Chad Henne and the Redskins’ record book, tying a franchise record by becoming the fifth player in team history to record four sacks in a game. But more stunning than Kerrigan’s four-sack outburst was the way the normally subdued man from America’s heartland celebrated his first and fourth sacks of the day in the midst of a 41-10 win.

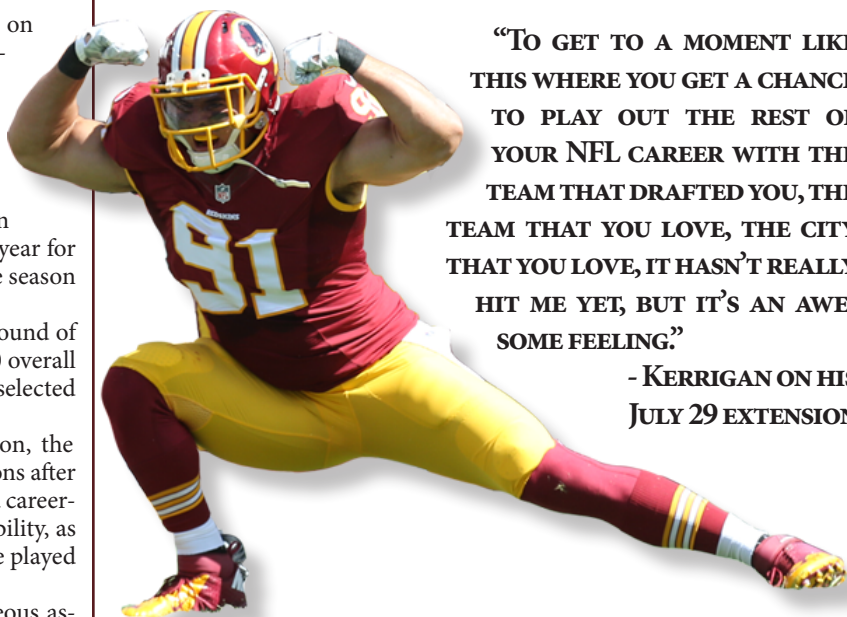

“[Linebacker] Will Compton has been kind of getting in my ear for a while to do the Shawn Michaels from wrestling — the HBK,” Kerrigan said of the inspiration for his celebrations. “All he kept saying was, ‘Hit the HBK, hit the HBK.’ Finally, I did right by him and hit the HBK a couple times. On the second and third ones, when I didn’t do it, he was giving me a bunch of hell on the sidelines, like, ‘Why didn’t you do it? You need to trademark it.’ I’m like, ‘Well, I can’t trademark it, it’s HBK.’ But that’s where it came from. You guys can thank Will Compton for the motivation for that one.”

The gesture resonated with wrestling fans and Redskins fans alike. The celebration was promoted by WWE on Twitter, and Redskins fans immediately began referring to the celebration as the “#HBKerrigan.”

Kerrigan is one of six players selected in the 2011 NFL Draft to have already reached 35 career sacks. Houston’s J.J. Watt (60.0), Kansas City’s Justin Houston (51.5), Denver’s Von Miller (50.0), St. Louis’ Robert Quinn (48.0), Oakland’s Aldon Smith (44.0) and Kerrigan (38.5) have combined for 292.0 sacks since entering the league together in the 2011 NFL Draft.

The Purdue product ended his college career tied for the Football Bowl Subdivision record with 14 career forced fumbles, and his innate knack for knocking the ball loose has translated to the NFL. Kerrigan has been credited with 16 forced fumbles in his young career and passed Ken Harvey (13) for the most career forced fumbles by a member of the Redskins since 1994.

Kerrigan’s impact on the Redskins has transcended football this season, as his strong 2014 campaign also includes an NFL Players Association Community MVP award to his credit. One day after his four-sack performance in Week 2, Kerrigan hosted the second annual Celebrity Waiter Night at Ruth’s Chris Steakhouse in Arlington, Va. The linebacker and his teammates served customers and helped raise more than $100,000 for Kerrigan’s Blitz for the Better Foundation, which provides support to seriously ill, special needs and physically challenged children throughout the Greater Washington D.C. area.

“TO GET TO A MOMENT LIKE THIS WHERE YOU GET A CHANCE TO PLAY OUT THE REST OF YOUR NFL CAREER WITH THE TEAM THAT DRAFTED YOU, THE TEAM THAT YOU LOVE, THE CITY THAT YOU LOVE, IT HASN’T REALLY HIT ME YET, BUT IT’S AN AWESOME FEELING.”

DARREL YOUNG: UNSUNG HERO

Darrel Young entered the NFL as a college free agent linebacker out of Villanova in 2009. One position change and two head coaching changes later, Young has found a home as one of the league's most dynamic fullbacks.

A favorite of teammates, fans, coaches and media members alike, there was consternation in the 2014 off-season about whether or not then-new coach Jay Gruden — who did not prominently feature a fullback as Offensive Coordinator of the Cincinnati Bengals — would have a significant role for Young. That question was laid to rest early in Gruden's tenure.

"I didn't have Darrel Young in Cincinnati — if I had him, I would have used him," Gruden said. "He's very versatile, he can run, he can catch, so we're excited about having him... The personnel will vary but DY will be a major part of this offense."

Gruden's statements proved prophetic, as Young posted a career-high five total touchdowns in 2014, including the team's first points of the year in Houston and two rushing touchdowns in a Week 16 win vs. Philadelphia. In Weeks 1-3, he became the first member of the Redskins to score the team's first touchdown in three consecutive games since Fred Davis in Weeks 12-14 of the 2009 season.

As a blocker, Young has helped pave the way for a rushing attack that gained 6,564 rushing yards across the 2012-14 seasons, third-most in the NFL. Among the beneficiaries of Young's blocks is Alfred Morris, whose 3,962 rushing career yards from 2012-14 were the 13th most by any NFL player in his first three NFL seasons. Young was a crucial component of the Redskins' league-high 2,709 rushing yards in 2012, which broke the team record of 2,625 set in 1983.

Young's selflessness in contributing to a greater purpose extends beyond his blocking. Throughout his tenure with the Redskins, Young has been a stalwart in the Washington, D.C. community. In 2014, the team honored him for his community contributions, naming him the organization's Walter Payton Man of the Year.

In addition to his frequent work with the Redskins Charitable Foundation, Young is also a Big Brother to a 12-year-old boy, Xavier, through Big Brothers Big Sisters of America. At the 2014 Welcome Home Luncheon, both Young and Xavier addressed the crowd to share their common experience.

"I thought, 'What am I doing that's so important that I can't impact a life?'"

- Fullback Darrel Young to FOX Sports' Alex Marvez, discussing his decision to become a Big Brother in the Big Brothers Big Sisters program

Though Young continues to adapt and thrive in his unsung hero role in Washington's offense, the "hero" label is nothing new to the Young family. Young was raised in a military family, as his father served in the Army and his brother, Sgt. 1st Class David Young Jr., has completed several tours in the Middle East in recent years. Young has travelled to visit troops in Honduras, Japan, Africa and El Salvador and elsewhere to show his appreciation for members of the military.

"I just run 100 yards and tackle people, hit people, block people. He's out there to serve the country. He's the real hero in my life."

- Fullback Darrel Young discussing his brother, Sgt. 1st Class David Young Jr., on ESPN's Sunday NFL Countdown (segment screenshot on right)

The mentality of sacrifice and hard work that was ingrained in Young while growing up in a military family established the foundation for his success doing football's so-called "dirty work" both as a fullback and as one of the Redskins' leaders on special teams.

THAT'S THE WAY

The Redskins spent the majority of the 2014 offseason evaluating a punting battle between newcomers Robert Malone and Blake Clingan, but the race received a darkhorse candidate when the team claimed punter Tress Way off waivers from Chicago on Aug. 20 that year. Way was given 10 days to stake a claim to the punting job, a task he performed en route to making his NFL debut at Houston in the 2014 season opener.

In 2014, Way's punting numbers rewarded the coaching staff's faith. Way averaged 47.5 yards per punt, the 35th-best single-season average in NFL history and the highest by a Redskins player since World War II.

Way finished the season averaging 47.5 yards per punt to rank fourth in team history, trailing only Sammy Baugh's full-season NFL record (51.4 yards per punt in 1940) and Baugh's 1941 and 1942 campaigns (48.7 and 48.2). Way became the first member of the Redskins to lead the NFL in punting for a season since Sam Baker in 1958 (45.4). It marked the seventh time a Redskins player had led the league in punting average dating back to 1939 (Baker once, Baugh five times — 1940-43, 1945).

REDSKINS TO LEAD NFL IN PUNTING SINCE 1939:

Player	Season	Avg.
Tress Way	2014	47.5
Sam Baker	1958	45.4
Sammy Baugh	1945	43.3
Sammy Baugh	1943	45.9
Sammy Baugh	1942	48.2
Sammy Baugh	1941	48.7
Sammy Baugh	1940	51.4

Though Way has been with the organization for only a limited amount of time, he is no stranger to playing for the Redskins. The University of Oklahoma product is a native of Tulsa, Okla., where he played his prep career for the Union H.S. Redskins. Part of the school's pregame traditions include chanting "All My Life I Wanted To Be A Redskin" and "Work, Work, Baby, Work, Work."

"I must've got 65, 'All my life I wanted to be a Redskin' texts," Way told multiple news outlets after making the team's Week 1 roster.

His reply via text: "Work, work, baby, work, work!"

HE SAID IT

"If you guys would have told me when I first got brought in and hadn't even won the job yet at end of the year I'd have a 40-yard net and be leading the league in average I probably would have slapped you in the face and told you to get out of my way."

- Way on his performance in 2014

"I got in a groove and was hitting the ball well and kept it going all season," Way said. "My mom and dad were here for the [last] game and it was cool to give them a hug and say, 'Season 1 is in the books, my rookie season is done, I made it.' I feel good how I did and I can get better."

- Way on his debut season in 2014

"With the Pro Bowl stuff, I couldn't believe I was in the mix, but everyone was so mad when I didn't make it. Every week they were like, 'Tress, are you still leading the league?' So with all these veterans fired up... it made it fun. Specialists are already on their own, but, man, everyone was all excited and it made it a lot of fun."

- Way on Pro Bowl consideration in 2014

JAY GRUDEN

HEAD COACH

12TH NFL SEASON // 2ND WITH REDSKINS

Jay Gruden is entering his second season with the Washington Redskins in 2015 after being named the 29th head coach in franchise history on January 9, 2014.

Previously a decorated quarterback in the college and Arena Football League ranks and a successful NFL assistant, Gruden assumed control of the Redskins in 2014 and guided the team through a campaign in which three different quarterbacks (Robert Griffin III, Kirk Cousins and Colt McCoy) recorded victories as starters. He installed an offensive system that helped the Redskins to team records in completions (364) and completion percentage (66.5) and helped produce two Pro Bowlers in his first season, earning repeat berths for tackle Trent Williams and running back Alfred Morris.

Excluding interim coaches, Gruden, 46 at the time of his hiring, became the team's youngest head coaching hire since hiring eventual Pro Football Hall of Famer Joe Gibbs at 40 years of age in 1981. He became the first Redskins coach hired directly from an offensive coordinator role on another team since Norv Turner in 1994.

Before joining the Redskins, Gruden spent his previous three seasons as offensive coordinator for the Cincinnati Bengals. In his tenure in Cincinnati, the Bengals averaged 10 wins a season, making three consecutive playoff appearances and earning an AFC North championship in 2013. Members of the Bengals' offense accounted for seven Pro Bowl selections in his three seasons in Cincinnati.

Gruden was tasked with the development of quarterback Andy Dalton, a 2011 second-round pick. In three seasons together, Gruden helped Dalton to a 30-18 regular season record as a starter (.625), as Dalton's 30 wins in that time frame ranked tied for fifth-most among NFL quarterbacks. Dalton's 80 passing touchdowns rank third-most in NFL history for a quarterback in his first three seasons, trailing only Dan Marino (98) and Peyton Manning (85).

Prior to joining the Bengals, Gruden served two years with the Florida Tuskers of the United Football League from 2009-10. In 2009, Gruden served as offensive coordinator as the Tuskers compiled a 6-0 regular season record and earned a UFL championship game berth. In 2010, he assumed the roles of head coach and general manager and led the Tuskers to their second consecutive championship game appearance.

Gruden coached for seven seasons (2002-08) with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, earning a Super Bowl championship ring as an offensive assistant in 2002. There he worked under his brother, Jon, then the Bucs' head coach, and current Redskins President Bruce Allen, the Bucs' general manager from 2004-08. Gruden helped guide the Buccaneers to the team's first league championship, a 48-21 victory in Super Bowl XXXVII.

Gruden also ranks among the most outstanding players and coaches in the history of the Arena Football League, having won six combined league championships – four as a quarterback and two as a head coach. Gruden played quarterback (2002-03) and served as head coach (2004-08) of the AFL's Orlando Predators, all while simultaneously working as an offensive assistant with the Buccaneers. In all, Gruden served as head coach of the Predators for nine seasons (1998-2001 and 2004-08), leading the Predators to four championship game appearances and two league titles as a coach. During a two-year hiatus from coaching the Predators in 2002-03, he returned to the playing field as Orlando's quarterback, leading the Predators to playoff appearances in both seasons.

In his eight seasons as a player in the AFL, Gruden completed 1,673-of-2,775 passes (60.3 percent) for 21,578 yards with 398 touchdowns and 99 interceptions. In addition to his time with Orlando, he spent six seasons (1991-96) at quarterback for the Tampa Bay Storm, winning four AFL titles and being named MVP of ArenaBowl VII in 1993. He was also named the 1992 AFL Most Valuable Player and was honored with induction into the AFL Hall of Fame in 1999.

Gruden played quarterback for four seasons for former Redskins draft pick Howard Schnellenberger at the University of Louisville (1985-88) and was a two-time team MVP.

Gruden was born March 4, 1967 in Tiffin, Ohio. He and his wife, Sherly, have three sons — J.J., Joey and Jack.

BEN KOTWICA

SPECIAL TEAMS
COORDINATOR

9TH NFL SEASON // 2ND WITH REDSKINS

Ben Kotwica was named as the Redskins' special teams coordinator on January 15, 2014.

Kotwica is entering his ninth NFL season and his second with the Redskins in 2015 after spending the first seven years of his NFL career in various coaching capacities with the New York Jets. Before assuming the role of coordinator for the Jets in 2013, Kotwica assisted with the Jets' special teams in multiple roles across the 2007-12 seasons.

In his first season in Washington in 2014, Kotwica's tutelage and eye for talent helped first-year punter Tress Way (47.5 yards per punt) become the first member of the Redskins to lead the NFL in punting for a season since Sam Baker in 1958. Way's average ranked fourth in team history, a feat he accomplished in a season in which he was given 10 days to earn the punting job after being claimed off waivers late in the preseason. Kotwica also helped kicker Kai Forbath successfully convert 24-of-27 field goals (88.9 percent) in 2014, the third-highest percentage in a single season in franchise history.

Prior to Kotwica's arrival in Washington, the Jets accounted for 10 combined kick and punt return touchdowns during his time as an assistant in New York, tied for most in the AFC and tied for second-most in the NFL. The Jets averaged a league-best 24.6 yards per kick return in those six seasons and had a kick returner finish in the Top 5 in the NFL in kick return four times (Joe McKnight, 2012; Joe McKnight, 2011; Brad Smith, 2010; and Leon Washington, 2007). Kotwica helped Leon Washington earn his first career Pro Bowl berth as a kick returner following the 2008 season.

In addition to his football career, Kotwica's background includes his time as a decorated officer who spent eight years in the United States Army after graduating from the United States Military Academy at West Point. His military career included operations in Bosnia-Herzegovina, Korea and Iraq.

Kotwica was commissioned as a 2nd Lieutenant in the Aviation Branch of the Army and was selected to fly the AH-64 Apache Longbow, the world's best attack helicopter. He was an Attack Helicopter Platoon Leader in support of the 82nd Airborne Division from 1998-2001, where he was responsible for the health and welfare of 20 soldiers.

In 2000, Kotwica deployed to Bosnia-Herzegovina for eight months before returning to the states to attend the Aviation Captain Career course. He completed the course in the top 10 percent of his class. Two years later, he returned overseas to Camp Page, Korea where he served as a Military Intelligence Officer for six months. In early 2003, he was selected to serve as the Battalion Executive Officer for a unit comprised of more than 300 soldiers, 24 attack helicopters and more than $400 million worth of equipment.

In January 2004, he briefly returned to Fort Hood, Texas to serve as the Training Officer for the 1st Cavalry Division. Two months later, he deployed in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom II, serving as a Combat Attack Helicopter Commander and flying more than 1,000 combat hours in support of five maneuver Brigades within the 1st Cavalry Division. His missions included convoy security operations; VIP escorts for former President George W. Bush, former Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld and former Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice; and search and destroy missions to suppress insurgent activities.

During his service, Kotwica was awarded with the Army Achievement Medal, the Army Commendation Medal, the Meritorious Service Medal and the Bronze Star.

Kotwica played at Army from 1993-96 and was a three-year starter at linebacker. He was the captain of the only 10-win team in Army history, leading the Black Knights to a 10-2 record and the program's most recent Commander-in-Chief's Trophy in 1996.

SEAN MCVAY

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

7TH NFL SEASON // 6TH WITH REDSKINS

Sean McVay was named the Redskins' offensive coordinator on January 15, 2014. McVay enters the 2015 season in his second season as the team's offensive coordinator after spending three seasons as the team's tight ends coach (2011-13) and one as an offensive assistant (2010).

In his first season as Offensive Coordinator in 2014, McVay helped the offense to a top 10 league ranking in yards per play (5.7) despite starting three different quarterbacks. His work with the three passers was instrumental in setting a team record for completion percentage (66.5 percent) and helped facilitate the explosive debut season of wide receiver DeSean Jackson, who averaged a league-best 20.9 yards per reception and became only the fourth player in team history to lead the NFL in that category.

In 2013, McVay played a crucial role in the development of rookie tight end Jordan Reed, who compiled 45 receptions for 499 yards – both Redskins' single-season rookie tight end records – despite Reed playing in only nine games. Under McVay's tutelage, Reed joined Chris Cooley (2004) as the only Redskins tight ends named to the PFWA All-Rookie Team. In addition, McVay helped tight end Logan Paulsen from an undrafted free agent into a 30-game starter from 2010-13, with Paulsen increasing his reception totals each season.

During Washington's NFC East championship season in 2012, McVay's unit produced despite losing starting tight end Fred Davis to a torn Achilles tendon in Week 7. Davis had led the team in both receptions (24) and receiving yards (325) through seven games before being placed on the Reserve/Injured list. McVay guided a unit that provided reliable receiving options on top of contributing significantly as blockers to the Redskins' league-leading 2,709 rushing yards.

In 2011, McVay played an integral role in Davis' emergence, as the then-fourth-year tight end surpassed his previous career highs despite playing in only 12 games. Davis caught 59 passes for 796 yards, the second-highest total on the team in both categories. Before missing the final four games of the season, Davis was on pace to set a franchise record in receiving yards by a tight end and was on pace to post the first 1,000-yard receiving season by a tight end in Redskins history.

McVay served as an offensive assistant to the Redskins in 2010, in addition to working with the tight ends during the final four weeks of the season following coach Jon Embree's departure. The Redskins offense ranked eighth in the NFL in passing yards per game (244.6) and tight end Chris Cooley ranked second among NFL tight ends in receptions (77) and third in receiving yards (849). The offensive unit also set a franchise record for completions in a season (349), and registered a touchdown pass in 15 consecutive games for the first time in team history. The Redskins' offense led the NFL with nine completions of at least 50 yards, including one in four consecutive games for the first time since 1987.

McVay joined the Redskins prior to the 2010 season after an undefeated regular season with the Florida Tuskers of the United Football League (UFL). The Tuskers finished a perfect 6-0 before losing in the UFL's inaugural championship game. McVay served as the Tuskers tight ends coach in addition to working closely with the team's running backs. McVay originally entered the National Football League as an offensive assistant with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 2008.

During his time in Tampa Bay, McVay worked closely with wide receiver Antonio Bryant, who recorded career highs in receptions (83), receiving yards (1,248), and touchdowns (seven), en route to winning The Sporting News Comeback Player of the Year Award.

McVay graduated from Miami University (Ohio) where he played wide receiver from 2004-07, earning Miami's Scholar-Athlete Award in 2007. His grandfather, John, served in various roles – including vice president/director of football operations from 1983-94 – for the San Francisco 49ers from 1979-95, overseeing five Super Bowl championship squads and earning induction into the 49ers Hall of Fame in 2013.

In his return to Washington in 2014, Hilliard oversaw the incorporation of free agent signing DeSean Jackson into the team’s offense. Jackson led the Redskins with 1,169 receiving yards on 56 receptions, becoming the fifth member of the Redskins to post 1,000 receiving yards in his first season in Washington (Bobby Mitchell in 1962, Henry Ellard in 1994, Laveranues Coles in 2003 and Santana Moss in 2005). Jackson averaged an NFL-best 20.9 yards per reception and was the first member of the Redskins to finish a season as the NFL leader in yards per reception since Henry Ellard (19.5 in 1996).

Hilliard served as wide receivers coach for the Buffalo Bills in 2013, helping mold a young group that included rookie second-round pick Robert Woods (40 receptions for 587 yards with three touchdowns) and rookie third-round pick Marquise Goodwin (17 receptions for 283 yards with three touchdowns).

receivers to the franchise’s first division title since 1999. He integrated free agents Pierre Garçon and Joshua Morgan into the offense, helping Garçon lead the team in receiving yards (633 in only 10 games) and helping Morgan lead the Redskins in receptions (48). The group’s toughness on the perimeter also helped the offense rush for a league-best 2,709 yards, a franchise record.

In 2011, Hilliard served as the assistant wide receivers coach for the Miami Dolphins. He helped in the development of wide receiver Brandon Marshall, who was selected for his third Pro Bowl and first as a member of the Dolphins. Additionally, Marshall finished third in the AFC in receiving yards with 1,214 and recorded his fifth-consecutive 1,000-plus yard season.

Prior to joining the Dolphins, Hilliard spent two seasons coaching for the Florida Tuskers of the United Football League. In his first season in Washington in 2014, Jordan helped running back Alfred Morris earn his second consecutive Pro Bowl berth, making Morris the first Redskins running back selected to consecutive Pro Bowls since Stephen Davis in 1999-2000. Morris posted joined Davis as the only backs in team history to record three consecutive 1,000-yard rushing seasons. Jordan's work was also evident in the play of fullback Darrel Young, who matched his career highs in rushing touchdowns (three) and receiving touchdowns (two) en route to a career-high five total touchdowns in 2014.

Before joining the Redskins, Jordan spent two years as the running backs coach at the University of North Carolina. In his first season with UNC in 2012, Jordan's Tar Heels averaged 193.8 rushing yards per game, third-most in the Atlantic Coast Conference and the program's highest average since 1994. That season, he tutored tailback Giovani Bernard – who played for current Redskins Head Coach Jay Gruden in Cincinnati in 2013 – to one of the best seasons in UNC history, helping Bernard average 122.8 rushing yards per game, most in the ACC and 11th in the nation.

Jordan was part of an offensive staff that helped Carolina set more than 35 school records, including total points, points per game and total offense.

Jordan coached running backs at Texas A&M for four seasons from 2008-11. In 2011, the Aggies averaged 199.1 rushing yards per game, fourth-most in the Big 12 Conference, and had two different backs – Cyrus Gray and Christine Michael – finish among the top five in the conference in rushing yards per game. Under Jordan's tutelage, Gray was a three-time All-Big 12 performer and exiting ranking third in conference history in all-purpose yards.

Jordan came to AggieLand from the University of Nebraska where he served as the running backs coach for the Cornhuskers from 2004-07. Jordan helped shape the I-back position, coaching two 1,000-yard rushers in Cody Ross in 2004 and Marlon Lucky in 2007. He oversaw a committee of backs in 2006 that produced nearly 2,400 rushing yards and 26 rushing touchdowns, as an improved effort on the ground helped NU move from 107th in 2005 to 23rd nationally in rushing offense in 2006.

Jordan began his coaching career with the Oakland Raiders as a special teams assistant midway through the 2003 season. He played nine years in the NFL as a running back, playing in 122 career games from 1993 through 2002. He began his career with the Los Angeles Raiders before joining the expansion Jacksonville Jaguars in 1995 and playing three seasons. Jordan holds the distinction of scoring the very first touchdown for the Jacksonville club, a 71-yard reception against Cincinnati in 1995.

After the 1997 season, Jordan rejoined the Raiders' organization where he played five more seasons. In 1998, Jordan rushed for 159 yards for the Raiders. He had a career-high 213 yards rushing and three touchdowns in helping the Raiders reach the AFC Championship Game in 2000. He also caught 27 passes for 299 yards and a touchdown that same season.

Jordan finished his career with 574 yards rushing and seven touchdowns, while making 58 catches for 596 yards and two touchdowns. Jordan was also a standout special teams player. He finished his career with 801 yards on 38 career kick returns, including a season best of 553 yards on 26 returns for Jacksonville in 1996. He also recorded 64 career tackles on special teams.

Jordan played for the University of North Carolina and head coach Mack Brown from 1989-92. He earned three letters for the Tar Heels rushing for 1,134 yards and nine touchdowns in his career, including 618 yards and seven touchdowns in 1991.

KIRK OLIVADOTTI

LINEBACKERS

13TH NFL SEASON // 13TH WITH REDSKINS

Kirk Olivadotti was named the Redskins' inside linebackers coach on January 16, 2014.

Olivadotti returned to the Redskins – with whom he spent 11 NFL seasons in various capacities from 2000-10 – in 2014 after three years coaching inside linebackers at the University of Georgia from 2011-13. Olivadotti is one of 11 members of the Redskins' assistant coach honor roll, which recognizes coaches with at least 10 seasons of service as an assistant in Washington.

In his first season back in Washington in 2014, Olivadotti's tutelage helped third-year linebacker Keenan Robinson blossom in his first season as a starter. Despite missing three games, Robinson led the Redskins with 108 total tackles (according to STATS, LLC), including a 14-tackle performance in a win vs. Tennessee in which Robinson earned NFC Defensive Player of the Week honors.

At Georgia, Olivadotti coached a linebacker corps that produced NFL draft picks Jarvis Jones and Alec Ogletree. The Bulldogs averaged 10 wins a season in Olivadotti's three years, including ending the 2012 season with a 12-2 record and a No. 5 national ranking.

During Olivadotti's initial 11-season stint with the Redskins, Washington finished in the top 10 in the NFL in overall defense on eight occasions. The Redskins allowed an average of 313.1 yards per game in Olivadotti's 11 years on staff, fourth-fewest in the NFC and seventh-fewest in the NFL in that time frame.

In 2009, he tutored a pair of linebackers to their first Pro Bowl in London Fletcher, who earned his initial trip in his 12th season, and Brian Orakpo, who was one of four NFL rookies selected. Fletcher led the Redskins in tackles with 172 and added two sacks, one interception and 10 passes defended. He eclipsed the 100-tackle mark for the 11th consecutive season.

Orakpo became the first Redskins defensive rookie to make the Pro Bowl since the 1970 merger. He is only the second Redskins rookie to be chosen, joining kick returner Tony Green (1978). Orakpo finished with 60 tackles, including three for loss, 11 sacks for 76 yards lost, one forced fumble and two passes defended. He led all rookies in sacks and tied for most among NFC linebackers with Dallas' DeMarcus Ware. Orakpo's 11 sacks finished tied for seventh in the NFL and fourth in the NFC, and set the franchise rookie record, surpassing the previous mark of six by Dean Hamel (1985) and Andre Collins (1990).

In 2008, Olivadotti's linebackers played a pivotal role in Washington ranking fourth overall in yards allowed per game (288.8), sixth in points allowed per game (18.5) and eighth in rushing yards allowed per game (95.4 yards).

The previous year, in Olivadotti's first season as linebackers coach, Washington finished eighth in the NFL in overall defense (305.3 yards per game) and fourth in the league in rush defense (91.3 yards per game). The tandem of Fletcher (156 tackles) and Rocky McIntosh (105 tackles) finished as the team's top tacklers.

Throughout his NFL coaching career, Olivadotti has worked with some of the best defensive minds in the NFL, including Ray Rhodes, Marvin Lewis, Gregg Williams, Greg Blache and Jim Haslett. Olivadotti began his NFL coaching career with the Redskins in 2000 as a defensive quality control coach. He served in that role for four seasons and also helped coach the defensive backs.

He continued as quality control coach in 2004, but also took on a role assisting the Redskins' special teams units. In 2006, Olivadotti's role expanded to working with the Redskins' defensive line.

Olivadotti began his coaching career on the college level, working with wide receivers and tight ends at Maine Maritime for one season (1997). He moved to Indiana State as an assistant coach for two years (1998-99) before making the transition to Washington and the NFL.

Olivadotti was a four-year letter winner as a wide receiver at Purdue from 1993-96. He earned his bachelor's degree in education and his master's degree in education administration, both from Purdue. He is the son of Tom Olivadotti, a long-time defensive coach in the NFL with Cleveland, Miami, Minnesota, the New York Giants and Houston. Kirk and his wife, Keely, have a daughter, Kasyn, and a son, Kruz.

WES PHILLIPS

TIGHT ENDS

9TH NFL SEASON // 2ND WITH REDSKINS

Wes Phillips was named the Redskins' tight ends coach on January 17, 2014.

In his first season in Washington in 2014, Phillips guided Niles Paul to a breakout campaign, as the special teams standout became shattered career highs in receptions (39) and receiving yards (507) after entering the season with 14 career catches and 228 career receiving yards to his credit in his first three years in the league. Phillips also oversaw the development of Jordan Reed, who finished third on the team with a career-high 50 receptions in his sophomore campaign.

Prior to joining the Redskins, Phillips spent seven seasons in various capacities with the Dallas Cowboys. He joined Dallas in 2007 as the club's quality control/offensive assistant coach before relinquishing his role as a quality control coach in 2011 to become the club's assistant offensive line coach in addition to continuing to assist special teams. In 2013, Phillips was named the tight ends coach, helping Jason Witten post the second-most touchdowns in a season in his career (eight).

In 2012, Phillips assisted with an offensive line that helped the Cowboys finish with 5,994 net yards, the third-most in a season in franchise history, and set a single-season club record with 4,729 passing yards despite having Phil Costa, the team's starting center, for only three games. In 2011, the unit integrated new starters at four of the five positions, helping Tony Romo post his third career 4,000-yard season while rookie running back DeMarco Murray established a single-game team rushing record with a 253-yard performance against St. Louis (10/23).

In Phillips' four seasons as Dallas' quality control/offensive assistant coach from 2007-10, the Cowboys' offense posted total yardage numbers ranking in the Top 10 in team history three times, including setting single-season club records in 2010 that included 6,390 yards of total offense - marking the first time a Cowboys team topped 6,000 yards in a season in team history - and 4,287 passing yards. The offense as a whole finished second in the league in total offense, averaging 399.4 yards per game.

Before landing in Dallas, Phillips coached quarterbacks at Baylor in 2006. His work with quarterback Shawn Bell paid dividends as Bell established school single-season records despite missing the final three games with a knee injury.

Prior to his one-year stint at Baylor, Phillips spent two seasons as the quarterbacks coach at West Texas A&M University. The Buffaloes celebrated their most successful season in almost 55 years in 2005, finishing 10-2 to post their first winning season since 1998 and the program's first 10-win season since 1950.

WTAMU won the Lone Star Conference with an 8-1 record, its first league title since 1986 and advanced to the quarterfinals of the NCAA D-II Playoffs for the first time in school history. The school led the 2005 Division II ranks in passing offense, racking up 363.8 yards-per-game. He tutored quarterback Dalton Bell, a finalist for the Harlon Hill Trophy, which goes to the top Division II player.

Prior to joining the WTAMU staff, Phillips spent one season as a student assistant coach at his alma mater, UTEP, and played two seasons at quarterback for the San Diego Riptide of the af2.

A three-year letterwinner at UTEP (1999-2001), Phillips was a member of the 2000 Miners team that shared the WAC title, posted the school's highest win total in more than a decade and played in the Humanitarian Bowl. Phillips left the collegiate ranks among the school's single-season leaders in both pass efficiency (ninth - 120.0 in 2001) and completion percentage (eighth - 55.6 in 2001).

Phillips received his degree in philosophy from UTEP in 2001. Phillips and his wife, Anna, were married in 2009 and have one daughter, Ivy, and a son, Mac.

GAME 1

FedExField (Landover, Md.)

DOLPHINS 17, REDSKINS 10

LANDOVER, Md. – The Washington Redskins lost to the Miami Dolphins, 17-10, in front of an announced crowd of 76,512 people at FedExField in Week 1.

The game kicked off the Redskins' 84th season in franchise history and the franchise's 79th representing Washington, D.C. It was the first of 19 games on the 2015 NFL schedule that represented Super Bowl rematches, and Joe Theismann and Bob Griese served as honorary team captains for the Redskins and Dolphins, respectively.

The Redskins outgained the Dolphins, 349-256, including a 161-74 edge in rushing yards. The Redskins' 161 rushing yards and 37 rushing attempts were both the second-highest totals of the Jay Gruden era (42 carries for 191 yards vs. Jacksonville on Sept. 14, 2014).

Running back Alfred Morris gained a game-high 121 rushing yards on 25 carries, recording his 12th career 100-yard rushing game and tying him with Earnest Byner, Terry Allen and George Rogers for fifth-most 100-yard games in franchise history. Morris also became the sixth player in franchise history to reach 4,000 career rushing yards as a member of the Redskins, joining John Riggins, Clinton Portis, Larry Brown, Stephen Davis and Terry Allen.

Quarterback Kirk Cousins started and completed 21-of-31 passes for 196 yards with one touchdown and two interceptions. The touchdown, a four-yard pass to tight end Jordan Reed, was the 19th passing touchdown of Cousins' career and the fourth receiving touchdown of Reed's career.

Linebacker Preston Smith, the team's second-round draft pick in the 2015 NFL Draft, recorded his first career sack, forced fumble and fumble recovery on a single play in the third quarter.

Despite the loss, the Redskins remain 8-4 all-time in Week 1 games at FedExField. The decision pushed the Redskins to 40-40-4 all-time in season openers, including a 24-22 record in openers since the 1970 merger.

GAME 2

FedExField (Landover, Md.)

REDSKINS 24, RAMS 10

LANDOVER, Md. – The Washington Redskins earned their first victory of the 2015 season in Week 2, defeating the St. Louis Rams, 24-10, in front of an announced crowd of 72,460 at FedExField.

A week after rushing for 161 yards against the Miami Dolphins, the Redskins gained 182 rushing yards against the Rams, marking only the third time since 1950 that the Redskins have opened a season with consecutive 150-yard rushing games (1952 and 2012). It represented the first time Redskins had rushed for at least 150 yards in consecutive games since Weeks 10-11 of the 2013 season.

Running back Matt Jones recorded career highs in rushing attempts (19), rushing yards (123) and rushing touchdowns (two). The 100-yard rushing game was the first of Jones' career and the first by a Redskins rookie since Alfred Morris on Dec. 30, 2012 (vs. Dallas). With the back-to-back 100-yard rushing games by Jones and Alfred Morris, the Redskins had two different players recording 100-yard rushing efforts in consecutive games for the first time since Weeks 6-7 of the 2012 season (Robert Griffin III and Morris).

The Redskins held the Rams to zero points in the first half. Prior to Week 2, the last time the Redskins held an opponent scoreless in the first half also came against the Rams on Oct. 2, 2011 (led 14-0, won 17-10). The Redskins' 17-point halftime lead was the team's largest halftime margin since holding a 25-point halftime lead at Dallas on Thanksgiving Day in 2012.

The Redskins improved to 25-13-1 all-time against the Rams, including postseason play. The Redskins are now 23-11-1 all-time against the Rams in regular season play. The win was the Redskins' first against an NFC West opponent since earning a 23-17 victory against the Seattle Seahawks on Nov. 27, 2011.

GAME 3

MetLife Stadium (East Rutherford, N.J.)

GIANTS 32, REDSKINS 21

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. – The Washington Redskins fell to the New York Giants, 32-21, in front of an announced crowd of 76,081 people at MetLife Stadium in Week 3.

Wide receiver Rashad Ross scored his first career kickoff return touchdown on a 101-yard return in the fourth quarter. His kickoff return touchdown was the Redskins' first since Oct. 31, 2010 (Brandon Banks, 96 yards at Detroit). The 101-yard kickoff return tied Brian Mitchell for the second-longest in team history (vs. SD on Dec. 6, 1998).

Running back Chris Thompson led the Redskins with eight receptions, marking the first time since Week 11 of the 2014 season that a running back led the team in receptions in a game (Roy Helu, Jr. vs. Tampa Bay). He scored on a four-yard reception from Kirk Cousins, Thompson's second career receiving touchdown and his first of the season. Thompson became the first member of the Redskins to record a receiving touchdown in consecutive road games against the Giants since Santana Moss across the 2011-12 seasons.

Tight end Jordan Reed led the Redskins with 96 receiving yards on six receptions, giving him the team lead in receiving yards in back-to-back weeks for the first time since Weeks 7-8 of his rookie season in 2013.

The Redskins' three scoring drives lasted 10, 13 and 12 plays, respectively. Entering the game, the Redskins were averaging 10.67 plays per scoring drive, the second-longest average in the NFL.
