

WASHINGTON COMMANDERS HOST PRACTICE AT JOINT BASE ANDREWS ON FRIDAY, AUGUST 12

WHAT: Today, the Washington Commanders invited service members and their families stationed at Joint Base Andrews to watch the team's practice on Friday, August 12, as the team gears up for the kickoff of the 2022 preseason on Saturday, August 13 against the Carolina Panthers. As the Commanders made their annual visit to the base, military members in attendance had the opportunity to watch practice from the sidelines and connect with players and sign autographs at the conclusion of practice.

WHO: 2022 Commanders players and coaching staff, Co-Owner and Co-CEO Tanya Snyder, Joint Base Andrews service members and families

Post practice remarks from:

- Co-Owner and Co-CEO Tanya Snyder
- Head Coach Ron Rivera
- Colonel Todd "Randy" Randolph, Commander, 316th Wing, Joint Base Andrews
- DT Jonathan Allen
- LB Jamin Davis

WHERE: Joint Base Andrews

WHEN: 11:00-12:30 p.m

VISUALS: Photo and b-roll of today's event can be found HERE

CONTACT: If you have further questions about today's event, please contact publicrelations@commanders.com